District Attorney Murray Addresses New Citizens on Duties and Privileges Involved as Voters, Members of Government.

Forty foreign born residents of Ulster county were admitted to citizenship Wednesday afternoon in naturalization court before Supreme Court Justice Harry E. Schirick. Several cases were continued due to some technical error in the application papers or the absence of witnesses and will be heard at the next term of the court.

At the conclusion of the examination of applicants and their witnesses Justice Schirick welcomed the newly admitted citizens and then presented District Attorney Cleon B. Murray who addressed the citizens and spoke of the privileges and duties which their new citizenship brought to them. Mr. Murray said: May I please the court:

My friends, through the request of Mr. Justice Schirick it is my privilege and honor to welcome you as citizens of the United States of America. It is apparent that on account of your character and your conduct a period of years, you have merited admission to citizenship, one of the most cherished gifts in the possession of this republic. A citizen has been defined as one who enjoys the freedom and privileges of a country. On the other hand, there are duties and obligations on behalf of a citizen. You now owe allegiance to the government of the United States, and are entitled to reciprocal protection from your government.

Your desire to attain citizenship during these times of stress and depression, deserves commendation and I heartily congratulate you upon your zeal in seeking citizenship at this time, thus affording your faith in the future of this country. By this act of faith you have demonstrated that you believe that this government, of the people, by the people and for the people, will overcome all obstacles and temporary trouble as it always has done, through the years.

In return for this honor and this privilege which has been conferred upon you, I believe that you will sincerely assume the duties and obligations incumbent upon a citizen. From henceforth, under our customs and laws, you are a part of the government. You have a right to vote. You should always exercise this right to vote, and thus actually take part in the election of your officials, and through your duly elected representatives, in the making of the laws of our country. Likewise, it is your duty, by your demeanor and by your influence, to assist in the enforcement of these laws, and it goes without saying that the power to make laws does not carry with it the power to disobey those laws. Your desire should be to uphold your government. Your government seeks to guarantee to you and yours life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness, and in return it asks at your hands that you be good citizens, and that means that you should work according to your ability for the best interests of the nation; that you should work together for the common good, so that our nation may maintain its present proud position and may prosper and continue as a leader among nations.

"E pluribus unum"—"Out of many, one" was the motto adopted by the founders of our republic when they formed a union of thirteen states. To these we have added, from time to time, thirty-five more. Our founders were convinced, as we are, that a strong nation could be built through federation. They were also convinced, as we are, that in America, under free government, many peoples would make one nation. Throughout all these years, we have admitted to our country and to citizenship immigrants from diverse lands of Europe. We had faith that thereby we would be serving ourselves and mankind. This faith has been justified. The United States has grown great. These immigrants and their immediate descendants have proved themselves as loyal as any citizens of our country. Liberty has kept us closely together as Americans.

To develop the right calibre of citizenship, we might well adopt the motto of the United States Military Academy at West Point, "Duty, Honor, Country." That means simply honorable conduct in all our dealings and in all actions with one's fellows. The basis of such conduct is loyalty. Loyalty to these fundamental principles upon which all right conduct is based, loyalty to the profession or occupation of which one is a member, loyalty to superiors, and loyalty to the nation.

Our fathers who founded this government took precautions to ensure the blessings of liberty to their posterity. In their wisdom they left a written constitution, beyond the private reach of any official hand, safeguarding these fundamental rights which either Congress or the President could alter or abolish, and set up judicial power to lay restraining

Hudson City Treasurer Arrested at Rhinebeck

Hudson, N. Y., May 2 (AP).—Officer Jesse Haight announced today he had arrested Mr. William Herbs, Hudson city treasurer who had been missing since April 15, at Rhinebeck, N. Y., on a warrant charging misappropriation of $113.55.

Haight said he had brought Herbs back to Hudson and was holding him for arraignment this afternoon.

He reported that he met Herbs in a garage in Rhinebeck, a community in the lower Hudson valley, between Hudson and New York city.

The officer said he asked the treasurer where he had been since he vanished from Hudson.

"I don't know," he quoted Herbs as saying.

State auditors are at work on the city books. An acting treasurer was named when police paychecks became overdue last month because of the absence of Herbs.

James F. Loughran in Picture-Talk Takes Rotary to Golden West

Highway Superintendent Tries to "Sell" Western Beauty to Rotarians—Politics Brings Up as Senator Wicks and Frank Heimerle Become Opposing Candidates for Governor in Play, Boy Campaign.

James F. Loughran, whose position as Ulster county superintendent of highways might be called in a state of suspended animation at the present time, spoke before the members and guests of Kingston Rotary Wednesday noon in the Governor Clinton Hotel in regard to his motor trip through the western states last year. To more fully elaborate on the details of his extended journey, Mr. Loughran showed three reels of motion pictures he took while en route. The speaker was brought to the club through the efforts of Sam Scudder, Jr., in charge of the day's program.

Views of states, cities, buildings and scenic wonders passed across the screen as Mr. Loughran explained the itinerary of his trip. Pictures of drouth stricken cattle in the Dakotas, of Yellowstone Park, geysers, hot springs, the Rocky Mountains, Salt Lake City and the Mormon Tabernacle, Boulder Dam in process of construction, Mexico, Los Angeles and numerous other interesting places were shown while the speaker explained and broadened his talk with interesting personal recollections which transpired during his journey. Mr. Loughran seemed particularly impressed with the vastness of the west, where vision is deceiving and a mountain 50 miles in the distance seemed to be but a few miles away. The speaker also stated during the course of his illustrated talk that he realized speakers before Rotary clubs should never try to sell anything.

However, Mr. Loughran said he did want to sell his listeners the idea of the beauty of the western states and he urged all those who have never been in the far west to make a similar trip when possible, preferably by motor.

Wicks vs. Heimerle

Some interesting by play transpired during the short business session when John Matthews asked for the floor. In a solemn and impressive voice, Mr. Matthews informed the membership that it was his belief when taken into the local club that creed, politics and prejudice were not to be tolerated in Rotary. That was his understanding, and he was sorry to say that the Rotary meeting held the week before had blatantly and recklessly broken that covenant. He referred to a speech by the Rev. Clarence Brown who welcomed Senator Arthur Wicks back into the membership of the club after his sojourn in Albany by referring to Mr. Wicks as the best governor of New York state. This, according to Mr. Matthews, was carrying things a little too far and he didn't like the idea of opening a political campaign in the bosom of the Rotary family. However, as long as this was being done, Mr. Matthews felt that the Democrats within the Rotary Club shouldn't be slighted, and he wanted to offer the name of Frank Heimerle as that party's choice for governor to oppose the Republican candidate, Senator Wicks immediately seconded the nomination.

All this brought a furrowed brow from the Rev. Clarence Brown. The Rev. Mr. Brown said that politics had played no part in his welcome of the week before, that the issue wasn't a party one as Senator Wicks would run on an entirely new ticket to be called the Clean Deal Party. Mr. Heimerle then rose and graciously accepted the nomination, bringing to a close another turbulent chapter in Ulster county politics.

By HAROLD P. BRAMAN

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press) London, May 2 (AP).—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald announced today that the British government "already is taking steps for a further accelerated expansion of the British air forces" in order to maintain parity with neighboring powers. The government head told a House of Commons filled with tense members and spectators that there would be an expansion of the air strength "beyond those provided for in the estimates this year in order to implement Mr. Baldwin's declaration."

Supplementary aviation expenditures exceeding $3,000,000—$15,000,000—were provided by parliament in February following a declaration by Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, that Great Britain should maintain aviation parity with any country "within striking distance."

"We propose," MacDonald told his audience, "to put our power of defense into a state which will enable our people to feel they are protected."

He announced that naval conversations between Great Britain and Germany will be held "near the middle of this month," attributing the postponement to the forthcoming anniversary of King George's jubilee.

MacDonald said today that Great Britain was determined to maintain a common front with France and Italy, stating "it would be a great calamity if there were any weakening or deterioration in the confidence which exists between France, Italy and ourselves."

Reviewing the recent attempts to keep Europe peaceful, the prime minister stated:

"It is greatly to be deplored that at that moment the German government announced its intention to impose conscription and to take immediate steps to raise its peace strength to 550,000 men, as well as to create a military air force."

He pointed out that the Anglo-French communique of February 3 had contemplated "a freely negotiated armistice pact with Germany and other powers to take the place of the military clauses of the Versailles treaty."

"If that could have been done successfully," said MacDonald, "the greater part of our immediate European dangers would have disappeared."

"I must express surprise that this moment has been chosen by Germany to announce a shipbuilding program, especially the building of submarines."

Affirming a common front with Italy and France, the prime minister asked: "Will not Germany now come home and show her readiness to help restore the international confidence so rudely shaken by her recent independent action?"

More Troops To Africa

Sheehan Corp. Awarded Over 300 Attend Third Contract to Construct Annual Meeting of Area East Chester By-pass On State Social Work

Albany Concern Was Low Bidder—Bid Was $154,145.20—Contract Had Been Held Up by State Conservation Group.

TO START SHORTLY

All Rights of Way Needed Obtained and No Further Delay is Expected.

Inquiry at the state department of the board of public works at Albany today brought out the fact that the contract for the construction of the East Chester street by-pass had been awarded to the Sheehan Contracting Corp. of Albany, whose bid was $154,145.20. Asked when construction work would start it was stated that it was expected that the Sheehan Corp. would start work shortly moving in the road machinery and commencing building operations. The contract calls for the building of a concrete road from East Chester street and Broadway to the City Home property and thence across lands on a new alignment to the intersection of Route 9-W, just beyond the Saugerties road railroad crossing.

There has been some delay in the awarding of the contract, since all rights of way needed had been obtained with the exception of the right to cross lands owned by the state conservation commission. At the last minute it was learned that the conservation commission refused to grant a right of way across its lands, which made necessary the laying out of a new alignment and the obtaining of new rights of way.

These new rights of way were obtained, the state highway department was notified and the contract was awarded.

Labor to be used on the building of this new road will be men taken from the rolls of the National Reemployment Service in the city hall.

Prosecution to Block Hauptmann Counsel

Trenton, May 2 (AP).—Bruno Richard Hauptmann's New Jersey prosecutors said today they would oppose his counsel's move to obtain documentary evidence of the conduct of spectators at his trial in preparation of his appeal.

The state legal department was served with notice that Egbert Ross, defense attorney, would apply to the court of errors and appeals during the day for permission to take the proposed depositions.

Among the assignments of error cited by the defense as grounds for reversal of Hauptmann's conviction of the Lindbergh baby slaying was the charge that the Flemington trial presented daily the spectacle of a "circus maximus." Evidence of the conduct of the trial may be made part of the defense argument before the court June 20.

Hauptmann's wife, Anna, visited him in the state prison death house yesterday for the first time in several weeks and reported he was writing a fat biography. With fingers spread about two inches, she indicated to questioners the amount of manuscript completed.

Mrs. Hauptmann said her husband was sleeping ten hours a day and appeared to be gaining weight because "he looks fuller in the face."

Resting Comfortably

Robbed of $20,000

Boston, May 2 (AP).—Two West-mouth Trust Company messengers today were robbed of $20,000 on the Old Colony Boulevard in the Dorchester section of Boston. Police reported that four or five men, armed with machine guns and revolvers, forced the bank messengers' car to the side of the road and seized the money.

Identical Twins Set

New York, May 2 (AP).—Edward and Thomas Mansfield are twins, and even their best friends can scarcely tell them apart.

Police, a magistrate and a fingerprint expert did no better when the Mansfield twins, ages 22, were arraigned in West Side court today.

Arraigned before Magistrate Samuel Katz on two charges of disorderly conduct as a result of the collision between the automobile one of the twins was driving and a machine owned by Chester Gierl, the twins were found guilty and fined. An assistant district attorney asked the arresting officer why he had not lodged a charge of driving while intoxicated.

"I can't tell them apart and don't know which one was driving," the officer said.

Confusion developed when the twins were fingerprinted, and Ed. Mansfield, fingerprint expert, thought the entire scene might be a hoax. Murphy took impressions of both Mansfields' faces. The prints were identical, a thing which was unheard of.

It turned out that Murphy had taken Ed's prints twice.

Dinner and Meeting at Hotel Stay-vant; Conference Held in the Court Room at the Court House Wednesday.

OLD AGE SECURITY

R. W. Wallace, Assistant Commissioner, Discussed Provisions of Present Law.

Registrations totaled over 300 at the third annual meeting of Area 12 of the New York State Conference on Social Work, held in Kingston Wednesday. Over 200 registered during the morning, when the conference was held in the court room at the court house. Many more registered during the afternoon and for the dinner and meeting held at the Stayvant Hotel in the evening.

The court room was in use for other purposes Wednesday afternoon and it became necessary to seek other quarters for the discussion groups which had been scheduled. One group met in the supervisors room, others in the Fair Street Reformed Church and in the room over the Randall store.

The discussion held in the supervisors room was in charge of Richard W. Wallace, assistant commissioner, State Department of Social Welfare. Mr. Wallace, who also was the main speaker at the dinner held at the Stayvant Hotel, discussed old age security, the provisions of the present law and contemplated changes, particularly with reference to the proposed federal program.

Mr. Wallace said that there were few changes in the law since it went into operation in this state five years ago, the most important having been made in 1934. He called attention to one feature that affected three of the seven counties represented in the conference being held—Dutchess, Orange and Ulster. This was that three cities, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston, were separate public welfare districts. Mr. Wallace said that any person who had reached the legal age, who had resided in the county for one year, but who might have moved to Kingston could make application for old age relief.

He also said that a person who was receiving relief, but who moved into another welfare district, might apply at once in the new district for relief and if proper plans had been made relief would be practically if not entirely continuous. Particularly was this true in both the old and new district payments were being made on the same uniform dates. It was found that dates of payment differed, some districts paying the first of the month, others in the middle of the month, or at the end of the month.

Mr. Wallace said that not much could be said about the federal program. A bill has already passed in the house of representatives. It was noted that the governor had signed the bill passed by the state legislature which would allow the acceptance of federal aid on relief.

Probably the federal government will reimburse the state one-half on grants up to $30 a month. Mr. Wallace said that if the legal age for receiving relief is changed from 70 to 65 it was quite possible that the cost of relief would be doubled.

Under the proposed federal law provision is made that the state shall make a claim on the estate of every person who has been receiving relief. Much of the latter portion of the afternoon session was devoted to a discussion of the question of insurance held by persons receiving relief and the claims of the welfare board against such insurance.

Judge Joseph M. Fowler presided at the dinner held at the Stayvant Hotel at 5:30 o'clock. Glenn E. Jackson, assistant director of TERA, New York city, was unable to be present and Mr. Wallace made the main address of the evening. Mrs. Ruth M. McCann of the State Department spoke and Frank W. Laidlaw, district health officer told about public health programs, telling about the great advances made in recent years in protecting the public health and mentioning some of the difficulties, including lack of full cooperation on the part of the public, which were encountered in the work.

Celdom was known as a model soldier and was well known as a boxer and wrestler at the post. Recently officials said, he had been acting strangely so they ordered him to the hospital for observation.

Now held under heavy guard, he will be sent to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington for further observation and treatment.

Resolutions Attacking The New Deal Are Adopted By Chamber Of Commerce

Says Grover Bergdoll Be Shown No Clemency

Washington, May 2 (AP).—Attorney General Cummings today said Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, World War draft dodger, would receive "no clemency from the department of justice."

Told at a press conference that Mrs. Bergdoll had landed in New York with the intention of seeking a pardon for her husband, now in Germany, the attorney general said:

Bergdoll is a fugitive from justice. He was convicted at court martial and was serving time at the time of his escape. Two other indictments are facing him in the eastern district court of Pennsylvania.

Cummings said the question of clemency on the military sentence would be a matter for the war department and the President.

Ulster County Fair at the New Armory on August 20, 21 and 22

The dates for the holding of the annual Ulster County Fair have been changed from the dates previously announced and under the new arrangement the fair will be held at the new armory grounds on North Manor avenue on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, August 20, 21 and 22. This is two weeks later than the dates which had previously been decided on and the fact that the fair will be held two weeks later should be of distinct benefit to exhibitors.

The change in dates has been made necessary through the changing of the dates on which the local artillery units will be absent from the armory on annual maneuvers. Arrangements were made to hold the fair early in August when it was expected that the artillery units would be absent at that time. It was realized that the dates were rather early to be productive of good exhibits of agricultural products but it was desired that the fair be held when the stables were available for the housing of live stock.

With the date set later in August the exhibits should be correspondingly better. By holding the fair while the armory and the stables are unused more space will be available. The dates which now have been decided upon are the week prior to the State Fair and will in no way conflict with those who desire to exhibit or attend the State Fair.

Plans for the Ulster County Fair will be made known as they are developed by the committee in charge.

PRIVATE STARS OFFICER IN BACK SEVERAL TIMES
Plattsburg, N. Y., May 2 (AP).—The victim of a "model private" who ran amok in the military hospital at the United States army post here, Lieutenant Charles H. Morehouse, 33, of Ticonderoga, today is in a serious condition with 10 stab wounds.

Morehouse, assistant surgeon at the hospital and former football star at Brown University of Vermont, was attacked in his office yesterday by Private Ernest C. Celdom, 33, of New York city.

Holding an ice pick, Celdom crept up behind the officer as he sat at his desk and stabbed him several times in the back, the improvised dagger twice penetrating the lungs.

Attracted by the noise of the battle as Morehouse grappled with the soldier, several privates stationed at the hospital rushed to the scene and subdued Celdom. During the scuffle Morehouse received additional stab wounds in the chest, forehead and face.

Celdom was known as a model soldier and was well known as a boxer and wrestler at the post. Recently officials said, he had been acting strangely so they ordered him to the hospital for observation.

Now held under heavy guard, he will be sent to Walter Reed Hospital in Washington for further observation and treatment.

Speakers Ask From Floor That Changes in Resolutions Against NRA Legislation Be Made to Give Stronger Meaning.

ROOSEVELT ANGRY

President Sends No Message to Convention Because of Anger Over Resistance to Policy.

Washington, May 2 (AP).—Resolutions strongly attacking virtually every phase of the New Deal's legislative program were adopted today by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

It voted that the holding company legislation should "superimpose" no Federal body over state commissions; that the proposed Federal Reserve legislation would give rise to political domination of the country's banking system; that NRA should be purely voluntary; that the Wagner Labor bill should be drastically changed.

For the first time in the recollection of old attendants at the conventions, speakers from the floor asked changes in resolutions, apparently in the direction of making them even stronger.

Selection as president of Harper Sibley, a Rochester, N. Y., banker described by his associates as somewhat critical of New Deal policies was scheduled for early afternoon.

Roosevelt Angry

Washington, May 2 (AP).—Amid signs of hostility between President Roosevelt and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Secretary Hull went before the business men's convention today to attack what he called "unscrupulous resistance" to the Roosevelt program of lowering tariffs in negotiating reciprocal trade treaties.

The cabinet official, in a speech prepared for delivery which, he said, brought "pressure" to bear, "fear that they are to be deprived of even a small part of the artificial advantage given them by an 'over-indulgent government.'"

Signs widely interpreted as indicating a sharp break between the President and the organization of business men were seen by Washington observers as the convention went into its final day.

Angry over sharp assaults convention speakers have launched against New Deal measures and plans, he omitted to send a message to the chamber's annual dinner last night. For years, the chamber has been accustomed to hear a speech or a message from the chief executive.

There was no official pronouncement from the White House or the chamber as to this omission. Authoritative sources said the customary invitation to appear or send greetings had been extended to the President.

There was a tendency to regard the present situation as one of the most significant developments in government-business relations since the American Bankers Association convention last year. The result of the banker's convention was an apparent rapprochement widely heralded at the time as a "peace pact."

If the chamber's formal resolutions should follow the tenor of the speechmaking, the results of this convention would be on sharp contrast with last year's "pact."

The chambers moved today to act on a series of resolutions prepared by a committee. Washington watched to assay the truth and advance reports that these resolutions would be adverse to pending NRA and AAA legislation and would take with criticism the banking and utility holding company legislation which the President has placed on his "must" calendar.

The utility plan would outlaw holding companies the government deems "unnecessary" and the omnibus banking bill would extend the government's control over the nation's credit system.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, May 2 (AP).—The position of the treasury on April 30 was: Receipts, $122,750,225.67; expenditures, $131,452,521.25; balance, $11,547,713.42. Customs receipts for the month, $21,452,497.86. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $2,009,414,930.32; expenditures, $2,007,414,930.32; balance, $2,000,000.00.

Current excess of expenditures, $2,000,000.00; excess of receipts, $2,000,000.00; excess of receipts, $2,000,000.00; excess of receipts, $2,000,000.00.

Gold stock, $4,704,522,254.65.

hands on congress to nullify and make of no effect any act which ran counter to the constitution. Thus was the light of liberty set upon a hill, and so far have its blessed rays spread over the earth since that time that the oppressed of all the world have sought our shores.

Might I sound a word of warning at this time and remind you that you have taken a solemn oath of allegiance? Let it never be said that you have failed to support our institutions and our government. At all times lend deaf ears to the doctrines of Socialism, Communism, and such. In other words, keep the faith of those who have made possible this magnificent form of government.

My responsibilities and your responsibilities as citizens are grave. Let me remind you that we have the freest government on earth. Let me remind you that our strength lies in our patriotism, that anarchy flows before patriotism. Peace and order and security and liberty are safe so long as love of country burns in the hearts of citizens.

Love and cherish this flag, and what it is, and what it represents. It embodies the purposes and history of the government itself. This flag records the achievements of its defenders upon land and sea. It heralds the heroism and sacrifices of our revolutionary fathers who planted free government on this ground and dedicated it to liberty forever.

It attests the struggles of our army and navy, and the valor of our citizens in all the wars of the Republic. It has been sanctified by the blood of our best and bravest.

It records the achievements of Washington and the martyrdom of Lincoln. It has been bathed in the tears of a sorrowing people.

It has been glorified in the hearts of freedom loving people not only at home, but in every part of the world. Our flag expresses more than any other flag. It means more than any other national emblem. It expresses the will of a free people, and proclaims that they are supreme and that they acknowledge no earthly sovereign other than themselves.

It was the custom in ancient Athens to hold each year a festival at which all young men who had attained their eighteenth year were admitted to citizenship. There in the temple, in the presence of the elders of the city, and of many citizens, and with the gods of ancient Hellas as his witness, each of the young men took a solemn oath in these terms: "I will never disgrace these hallowed weapons or abandon my companions beside whom I am placed in battle, but will fight for both sacred and secular things with my fellows. I will not leave my country less, but greater and better by sea and by land. I will obey the rulers appointed and the established laws and whatever new laws the state may lawfully establish. And if anyone attempt to disobey the existing ordinance or disobey them, I will resist him and defend them individually and with the rest."

6 Suspects Arrested In Havana, Police See Disaster Link

Havana, May 2 (AP)—Simultaneously with the arrest of six suspected anarchists, police expressed the opinion today that there was a possible connection between the existence of anarchist groups here and disasters which have befallen vessels sailing to and from Havana.

The authorities declined to identify the ship or ships to which they referred.

The six men under arrest were Ricardo Pereira, Jose Tejera, Jose Vidal, Enrique Perez, Jesus Diegues, and Pablo Guerra.

The police said search of their persons and the headquarters of the anarchist federation of Havana and allied groups resulted in the discovery of documents linking the prisoners with an anarchist organization in Barcelona, Spain.

Included among the documents, they said, was a letter to the National Maritime Transport Syndicate giving the "anarchist salute." The authorities said the letter advised that the transatlantic liner Magallanes had discharged 12 members of its crew and demanded that Havana anarchists "make the ship company suffer the consequences of the despot action and give merited punishment to strikebreakers."

Most appalling of the disasters which befell liners in the Havana service was the burning of the Morro Castle off the New Jersey coast the night of September 8 with a loss of 124 lives.

The possibility that sabotage might have been responsible for the catastrophe was hinted at the federal inquiry but never established.

Four months after the burning of the Morro Castle, the liner Mohawk sank in collision with the Norwegian freighter Tallman with a death toll of 45 passengers and members of the crew. The investigation into the circumstances of this disaster elicited testimony that failure of the Mohawk's steering gear to operate properly made the liner unmanageable.

The Magallanes, mentioned in connection with the arrest of the six suspected anarchists in Havana, is a passenger liner operating between Spain and West Indian ports.

A wise man doesn't find much wisdom in wisecracks.

THE MOST AMAZING PERFORMANCE RECORD of any Refrigerator in the world!

ALTHOUGH the G-E refrigerator is not guaranteed to withstand "acts of providence" and abuse, there are thousands of incidents where even fire, flood, tornado and explosions have failed to damage this famous sealed-in-steel mechanism.

Sealed in a fortress of steel the matchless G-E mechanism is protected from air, dust and moisture. These are the elements that cause wear, rust and corrosion, and cut the life of an unprotected mechanism short. If you would buy a refrigerator for lasting performance—be sure the mechanism is sealed-in-steel.

Important to the refrigerator buyer is the amazing performance record of hundreds of thousands of G-E's now in use six, seven and eight years. Today, they are as good mechanically as when first purchased. Their record is unparalleled.

Performance—not for a season or a year or two, but year after year—is what counts in a refrigerator. It outweighs all other features combined. Look first to the mechanism.

Rain Settles Dust, Farmers Are Joyous

Springfield, Colo., May 2 (AP)—Rain—the answer to the prayers of farmers in three states—splashed into the dust bowl of the southwest early today in a joyous symphony.

Those who dashed from their beds into the streets, nightgowns and lace caps trailing, were more eager in this silt center to feel the hope-reviving moisture than to bother with precipitation gauges locked in the community weather station.

After rain had fallen briskly for two hours those familiar with farming appraised it as a "fair shower." They were ready to hail it as an omen of a broken drought but reluctant to call it a cure-all.

This much was certain: It was the first rain in dirt-battered Baca county area since long ago and perhaps the heaviest since June, 1932.

Telephone messages brought word that the rain had penetrated as far east as Syracuse, Kas. There were showers to the west at Lamar and La Junta, on the fringe of the "Black Roller" belt. There even was snow in the Capulin Mountain area of northeastern New Mexico and traces of moisture toward Boise City, Okla.

After rain had fallen for two hours, the same type of wind that has tortured the region with incessant clouds of dust for weeks on end threatened again. It appeared to be blowing away the rainstorm. The wind had sprung up from the northwest and citizens angrily watched as it swept the clouds along.

To each and every resident the rain came as an almost-forgotten novelty, but to many small children it was a source of wonder. They, too, left their beds to revel in the rain out of doors.

Parched, pulverized soil greedily soaked up every drop, and after two hours of the drizzle, the surface was hardly wet.

Dr. Henschel Dies While Giving Lecture

New York, May 2 (AP)—In the middle of a technical lecture before 150 physicians, including his two sons, Dr. Joseph Henschel, 63, paused to make a humorous remark and, as the laughter subsided, slumped to the floor—dead.

His sons, Drs. Mervin and Egbert Henschel, and other members of the audience rushed to the platform. Efforts to revive him failed. They believed he died of a heart attack. Dr. Henschel was discussing physical therapy, upon which he was an authority, when death came.

He was president of the Bronx Borough Medical Society.

The death last night recalled that of Dr. Willy Meyer, internationally famous surgeon, under similar circumstances in the same lecture room of the Academy of Medicine three years ago.

Radio Cars Add to Police Efficiency, Police Board Finds

Commissioners Ride in Cars Wednesday Night and Learn Facts at First Hand as They Patrol City—Express Satisfaction as They Take Part in Regular Police Routine.

That the Kingston police department radio broadcasting station has added greatly to the efficiency of the police department work in the city was proved to the satisfaction of the Board of Police Commissioners on Wednesday evening when they rode around town in the three radio cars and heard the reports broadcast from police headquarters in the city hall and received over the receiving sets in the cars, and were given an actual demonstration as to the system of police patrolling as now in force, especially during the night hours.

Chief of Police J. Allan Wood had arranged for the board to test the new broadcasting system, and Commissioners Kuehn, Connelly, Cortis and Goldrick were assigned to Cars Nos. 1 and 2, while Mayor Helsenman, Chief Wood and a reporter of The Freeman were assigned to Car No. 3. Each car was in command of a detail of police, two officers being assigned to each car as usual, and the regular routine of police patrol was carried out as though there were no riders in the rear seats of the radio cars that night. The demonstration was intended primarily to afford the members of the police board an opportunity to learn at first hand how the new radio system operates, and it also gave them a better idea as to the system used in patrolling the streets of the city. Each car is assigned a certain section of the city which it covers all through the night hours. The man on the desk back in police headquarters is in constant touch with the cars by means of the radio, and directs them to go here or go there as the need arises.

Last night Sergeant Charles Phinney did the broadcasting from the station, and his voice came in clear and distinct at all times. Car No. 3 is the car that covers the Ponckhockie, downtown, Wilbur and West Chestnut street sections of the city. Leaving headquarters the car shot downtown and then proceeded to the water front at Kingston Point and from there back up through Ponckhockie and up Delaware avenue to Hasbrouck Park and then back through the downtown business section and out along the Rondout creek front to Wilbur, where the car picked up a call to report back at headquarters.

Nothing unusual turned up while the demonstration was being staged, but the work gave the members of the board a much better idea of the system and its operation.

The tour of the downtown section in Car No. 3 turned up one rather amusing incident. When the car ran down to the Kingston Yacht Club grounds at Kingston Point and then over to the gas station adjoining the yacht club it was to find a parked car on the dock and in it a young couple enjoying the moonlight and view of the Hudson river. However, previous parkers there have been careless in throwing cigarette butts around which makes a fire hazard near the big gas tanks, and the couple were directed to find another parking spot.

Radio Car No. 3 then proceeded back through Ponckhockie and pulled up to the curb to that the driver of the car, Officer Brophy, could report in to the city hall via the police signal system while Officer Mahoney remained in the car.

After reporting over the signal system, the tour of the city was resumed, and the car driven into Hasbrouck Park and up to the parking grounds overlooking the river and Rondout creek. As the police car poked its nose over the brow of the hill leading to the parking ground its headlights picked up another car parked in the grounds. It was the same car that had been parked at Kingston Point. The officer alighted from the police car and walked over to the parked car.

The parkers, however, had taken a lesson from the incident at the water front and were not in the car. They had parked the car and then gone for a walk.

All during the tour at various intervals reception was heard from the broadcasting station where Sergeant Phinney placed on the air various items of interest. It was found that in certain sections of the city reception was much better than in others. There was some static but that was found when the car was passing high tension electric wires, but the static was not loud enough to drown out the messages received from the station.

The demonstration proved to the members of the police board that the new radio system had greatly increased the efficiency of the police department, and all of the commissioners expressed themselves as much pleased with the demonstration. The fact that impressed the reporter most was that no attempt had been made on the part of the police department to put on anything unusual in the way of demonstration but to afford those who enjoyed the tour an actual demonstration of regular police work, as the police cars carried on the regular police routine.

Bar Art Defames Al, Say Loyal Henchmen

Chicago, May 2 (AP)—On the back wall of a basement bar in the suburban Glencoe home of James M. R. Glaser, a grain broker, is a work of art that has gangland aghast.

It's a mural—"The History of Bootlegging"—the work of Viscount Hastings, which depicts "Scarface Al" Capone, in white apats, yellow tie, pearl fedora, a black cigar, and a blood-splattered shirt.

"Al," said indignant survivors of the old Capone gang, "never gave a tumble to a skirt like that. He wouldn't give her a job washing glasses in a speakeasy."

But they admitted, the rest of the picture wasn't so bad. Painted by Hastings while he and his wife, Christina, were guests of the Glasers during a visit to a Century of Progress, it shows speakeasies, hi-jacking, rum running and some expert handling of six-guns and "tommyes."

Valpaur Arrested.
Edward Valpaur, who lives on the Plank Road, was arrested Wednesday by Trooper Arthur Reilly on a warrant charging conspiracy. After arraignment before Justice Walter Webber he was committed to the Ulster county jail pending a further hearing today. The case is said to be a rather mixed up affair, involving a business transaction.

Make The Hall Inviting

By Agnes Heider Barnes

THE most logical place to begin redecorating is the hall, that often neglected spot where anything that is left over is used. Really, the hall is most important because here the first impression of the home is made, and the taste, or lack of taste, of the owner is instantly sensed. The hall should be genuinely interesting, even striking, in decoration because it is used only in passing. In most halls, there is neither space nor need for much furniture, so that the walls have the responsibility of providing most of the decoration. Here it is that the versatility of wallpaper is appreciated. With a scenic wallpaper we may make the walls so diverting that other furnishings will not be missed if the space is too small to accommodate them; with light wall-papers we may bring a sunny and airy atmosphere to a dark cubby hole of a hall; with a striped or a vine design we may improve a very low-ceilinged hall; with a dais we can make a high, old-fashioned hall seem infinitely better proportioned; with foliage or landscape paper we may make a narrow, contracted hall seem more spacious.

The hall illustrated shows a wallpaper that does its part in expressing ing the charming atmosphere of a hospitable home. The wallpaper also successfully mirrors the spirit of the simple Colonial furnishings and is an indication of the style of the rooms opening from it. Warm beige, tan and dull turquoise-blue are the colors of the wallpaper, and from it the color scheme of the hall was planned. Woodwork and dais are painted turquoise-blue. The stair and hall are carpeted in brown, and a hooked rug in white and tan lends a note of interest to the floor. A drop-hat table and a pair of prints artistically arranged complete the delightful furnishings.

Turn to wallpaper when your dull and winter-wary rooms need freshening and brightening in the spring. While wallpaper is one of the oldest wall finishes, it still is the most vigorous, colorful and distinctive wall treatment available. Inexpensiveness is one of its enduring charms. If one realized how entirely different and refreshing a decorative new wallpaper can make a room appear, it would be impossible to resist the temptation to re-paper each room of the house.

Calendar Promulgated by Pope Gregory XIII

Our calendar is the one promulgated by Pope Gregory XIII, with the counsel of the astronomer, Clavius. It was adopted by the Catholic nations generally in the year 1582, by England and her colonies in 1752, and about the latter year by Sweden and Tuscany.

The Gregorian calendar is now practically universally in use. This reckoning was accepted by Russia soon after the revolution of 1917, and by the Greek church in 1923. In many Mohammedan countries or regions it is used officially in civil life in preference to theirs.

The calendar in use previous to the Gregorian was that introduced by Julius Caesar in B. C. 46, in which he held the true year to be 365 1/4 days long. The Julian calendar, therefore, provided for a year of 365 days with a 365th added every fourth year. The actual time required for the earth's journey around the sun is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 46 seconds—11 minutes and 14 seconds less than Caesar allowed. But his calendar was sufficiently accurate to work marvelously for generations.

Still, by 1582 the error had amounted to ten full days. The vernal equinox fell upon the 11th instead of the 21st of March. The shift had unfixed the time of Easter and all the other movable feasts.

Pope Gregory XIII therefore ordained that ten days should be deducted from the year 1582 to set things right again. This was done in the church calendar by calling what would have been the 5th of October, the 15th. After that a recurrence of the error was to be guarded against by omitting the leap year from every hundredth year except those centuries exactly divisible by 400. By this system there is still a slight inaccuracy, but it will not amount to quite a day in 3,000 years.

The domestic motion picture industry in India is making notable progress, native productions now offering severe competition to American and British films.

RADICALS STAGE MAY DAY MARCH

The largest radical demonstration ever held in New York was staged on May Day with more than 50,000 Communists marching, waving banners and shouting at the top of their lungs. Twenty thousand police were mustered to keep order—but the demonstration was entirely peaceful. (Associated Press Photo)

Lehman Signs 10 Bills To Aid State Judiciary

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Ten bills designed to improve New York state's judicial system today had been enacted into law by Governor Herbert H. Lehman's signature.

Recommended by the State Judicial Council after exhaustive studies and several hearings, the major proposals provide:

Special proceedings may be consolidated whenever it can be done without prejudice to a substantial right.

A court may order two or more actions of the same set of facts to be tried together, without consolidation.

when it can be done without prejudice to a substantial right.

No judge of a court of record shall be disqualified in any action or proceeding in which an insurance company is a party or is interested, by reason of his being a policyholder therein.

Official referees may determine inquests and defaults, traverses of process and small claims.

That in personal injury actions where a court orders a physical examination of a female, the latter may have the right to be examined in the presence of her own personal physician and such relative or other person as she may direct.

They were signed last night as the chief executive continued to dispose of the mass of proposed new laws placed in his hands by the 1935 legislature. To date 622 measures have been approved.

Yesterday's consideration of bills resulted in 23 vetoes, one of the largest number rejected at one sitting since the legislature adjourned.

NEW PALITZ

New Palitz, May 2.—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jansen entertained Mr. and Mrs. Roy Krom and baby of High Falls on Sunday.

Morgan Coutant visited Kingston on Tuesday.

Those in the cast of the "Home Town Revue" given in the Methodist church Friday evening enjoyed a party in the recreation room on Monday evening.

The following Girl Scouts of New Palitz have passed their work in the first aid test: Marie Jenkins, Alberta

Harris, Gladys Davis, Doris Corwin, Marie Kiernan and Corrine Ackert. The course was given by Mrs. Virgil DeWitt. Mrs. Raymond Morris is giving work in home nursing and several of the second class scouts will soon have earned the home nursing badge.

The Seekers Class and Home Department of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Frank Elliott on Tuesday afternoon, April 30. The president, Mrs. Morgan Coutant presided and the meeting opened with prayer by the president. Mrs. Wayne Wiseman led the devotionals by reading from the psalms and a prayer which was followed with singing "Sweet Hour of Prayer", she then read "When Ye Pray", and the devotionals closed with the Lord's Prayer. The business session followed with the president presiding. Roll call, minutes of the last meeting. Treasurer's report and reports by the sick and finance committees were given. Also a report of the Home Department superintendent. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, Mrs. Morgan Coutant; vice-president, Mrs. Harry Oakley; secretary, Mrs. Webb Kniffen; treasurer, Mrs. Wayne Wiseman. The committees were re-elected as follows: Finance committee, Mrs. Fred Mack, chairman; Mrs. Frank Elliott, Mrs. Wayne Wiseman, Mrs. Frank Gulnac and Mrs. Ralph Gardner. Sick committee, Mrs. Amos Roosa and Mrs. Minnie Duryea. The afternoon program was in charge of Mrs. Frank Elliott, who first gave a very fine reading on the use of the Bible entitled, "Two Bibles", after which she read parts from the book, "Nurse's on Horseback" by Ernest Poole, which tells of the conditions in the Kentucky mountains and of what the nurses have to endure there. Mrs. Elliott then served a delicious cafeteria luncheon and a social time was enjoyed by the following who were present: Mrs. Morgan Coutant, Mrs. Mrs. Robert L. Mauterstock, Mrs. Harry Oakley, Mrs. Wayne Wiseman, Daniel Silkworth, Miss Lila Parls, Mrs. Amos Roosa, Mrs. Frank Gulnac, Mrs. Raymond Hasbrouck, Mrs. Webb Kniffen, Mrs. Arthur Ingraham and little son Elmer, Mrs. Frank Elliott and little daughter Grace. Through the kindness of Morgan Coutant, the Rev. Robert L. Mauterstock and Mrs. Elliott, the ladies were conveyed to and from the meeting. The May meeting will be held in the church parlor with Mrs. Frank McCaul in charge of the devotionals and Mrs. Wayne Wiseman the study period.

Those taking part on the program at the last meeting of Hugenot Grange were: Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Seward, who played two piano solos, "Waltz in A flat" by Chopin and "In My Neighbor's Garden" by Nevin. S. M. Kevan reported on the New York Flower Show. A skit, "A Trip to Boston", by Mrs. Ellings Harg and Frank J. LeFevre, Mrs. Dressel, Mrs. Kurtz and Mrs. Charles Johnston sang, "Allah's Holiday", and "Grannieama", by Fritz, accompanied by Mrs. Seward. The program closed with a radio broadcast, "Ted Husing" announcing, by Mrs. Harold DuBois, vocalist, accompanied by Miss Marion DuBois.

A lot of fellows who really don't know how to steer an automobile are driving around because they feel that it is too dangerous to walk.

The late producer stamped angrily up and down his office. Suddenly he stopped and gazed fixedly at the pretty actress.

Producer (heatedly)—But why, why don't you like the part?
Actress—Because I don't you idiot!

Producer (stomping)—Don't call me an idiot! Do you want everybody to hear?
Actress (looking mildly surprised)—Oh, I'm sorry. (Very sweetly) I didn't know it was a secret.

Exasperated Mr. Jones—Look here, young man, last week you knocked over a gate post with the hay rack and ran the corn binder into a tree, and now you've driven the tractor into a rock and smashed the radiator. I'll be glad when your vacation is over and you go back where you came from. What's your business, anyway?

Mandy—Well, not quite all, Dinah. I've got to buy a tuxedo, an' get mah husband a job, an' rent a house, an' buy mah husband a good suit of clothes an' get some regular washin' work to do. An' when them's done Ah kin name the happy day.

We must depend for much upon others, but on the whole it is unfortunate to depend upon them too much.

Boss—Tell him it'll cost twenty cents.

WEST SHOKAN

West Shokan, May 1.—Founders Day was enthusiastically observed Saturday night by Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge at Olive Bridge. There was a nice turnout by the home lodge members while a group of prominent visitors were greeted from Bearsville, West Saugerties and Saugerties. During the meeting a comprehensive and decidedly interesting essay on the life of American Odd Fellowship and its founder, Thomas Wilkey, was read by Past District Deputy Arthur E. Trowbridge. After the closing there was an ample and highly appetizing serving of refreshments. Hotly contested card games and general sociability concluded very pleasantly the evening's gathering.

Sunday school was well attended on Sunday afternoon. Due to absence of the superintendent, Mrs. Bertha Thompson, the senior class was conducted by Miss Helen Thompson. Miss Louise Smith taught the primary class. Members of the Sunday school are planning to hold a children's day entertainment at the church. Sunday school will be held next Sunday as usual at one o'clock. A full attendance is urged. Everyone invited.

A business meeting of the West Shokan Ladies' Aid will be held at the church basement Wednesday, May 8, at 2 p. m. All members are requested to be present at this time.

A wonderfully refreshing rain drenched the reservoir country Monday night and Tuesday morning. Heavy rain and wind squalls were frequent during the afternoon as the weather turned decidedly cooler. Enough water fell to raise the ebbing streams noticeably.

Lester S. Davis returned home from the Benedictine Hospital Sunday. The genial ex-squire says he is feeling fine and happy indeed to get back to his wife and the home folks.

Lauren Hesley and family have vacated the parsonage and moved to their cozy new home on the Watson Hollow road. The parsonage will be re-occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Shepard Bell, who are about to vacate Mrs. Smith's residence, which they have rented since disposing of their West Shokan Inn property.

The town gasoline shovel was moved to the shale bank on Mrs. Ole Burgher's property at West Shokan heights Tuesday. Trucks loaded here will haul shale for needed road repairs about the west side area. Commissioner Claude Bell has been unable to start road grading due to the dry weather, which fortunately is now relieved. Work on the TERA hill road project at Boiceville was due to start up Wednesday after the temporary shutdown. The full force is reported, will be employed together three days a week.

It is reported that St. Clair Barnes of Maitly Hollow road is unable to walk, due to rheumatism. Mr. Barnes is being cared for by neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Avery of Watson Hollow are the proud parents of a bouncing son, born Sunday. Dr. Hans J. Cohn of Shokan is the attending physician.

William Bender, carpenter, who has been doing some work at Maple Dell Farm, is now employed at Mrs. Jane Guinac's, Ashokan. Mr. Bender, an expert workman, was in the reservoir building era employed as a carpenter foreman by Winston and Co.

Friends are pleased that John Nagle has returned to his familiar Main street rendezvous after several months over winter absence in Brooklyn. Johnnie has undergone an operation to relieve his leg which has crippled him since early last summer, but the member continues a pretty sore one re reports. Bradford Kelder of Samsonville and niece, Miss Edna Oakley of Olive Bridge, were social callers here Sunday evening.

During the recent spell of summer like weather some farmers succeeded in sowing their oats. Thus far, however, but little, if any, planting has been done. Ernie Constable of High Point Mountain reports getting in four bushel of "laters", also has an early garden planting about to peek through the ground.

A recent day's outing was spent in Kingston by a prominent group of Olive socialites, consisting of the following comely matrons: Mrs. Cecil Gray, Mrs. John C. Marshall, Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. V. Elmer Fawcner. Their outing program included dinner at a leading eating place, attending matinee performance at a playhouse, also a social chat with former Judge Lester S. Davis, convalescing at Benedictine Hospital.

Henry Sheldon of Sheldon Hill recently made a spring sowing of oats for his neighbor, Judge Henry Winchell.

Aarsten Van Wagenen and several friends of Kingston were congenial social callers here Sunday afternoon. Bill Tuceling of Shokan, operator of the town gasoline shovel, broke an axle in his Oldsmobile sedan Saturday near the Buskill bridge. Repairs were promptly made by Pete Crawford, hustling Olive Bridge garageman, who, summoned by phone, towed the out of commission machine down to his garage.

Members of the December Grand Jury with George Garrison as foreman, will banquet at the Stuyvesant Hotel on Thursday evening, May 2. A full turnout is expected with good eats and a general good time assured. Judge Henry L. Winchell is a member of this august group of tallmen.

Members of the Lohr family were up from the city Easter week which was enjoyably spent at the family summer house on Main street.

Miss Maude Nichols of Brodhead Heights made a Main street shopping trip with the family horse and buggy on Monday.

A 125-mile motor trip over the Minnekaqua Trail to Gardiner, Montana and Newburgh and returning via Milton, Highland and New Paltz, was enjoyed one day during Easter week by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Winchell and nephew, Stephen Hyatt. Judge Winchell states that this was his first visit to the southern Ulster fruit section and to appearance fully justifies its claim to the finest fruit raising country in the east. Alonzo Burgher has been employed several weeks by Jordan Brothers of Brodhead Heights.

Road Foreman Nathan Eckert with several men have been busy of late putting in sluices at a point along the West Shokan Heights roadway near the Ford estate. The rocky side wall was blasted and the turn in the road straightened.

We know business 'n' everything would pick up as soon as the ball season started.

Ask Uncle Sam the truth about Gasolines

{ He'll tell you straight }

As a matter of fact, you don't even have to ask Uncle Sam.

Every time he taxes a gasoline, he tells you exactly what's in it and what it will do. Most gasolines, for example, are taxed just once ... taxed as gasolines and nothing more.

But there's one motor fuel, Tydol, that is different ... and Uncle Sam taxes Tydol twice. The first tax is the regular gasoline tax. The second tax is for the special lubricant Tydol contains. For this gasoline not only powers your motor but actually helps to lubricate it. Into every gallon of Tydol is blended a super-lubricant which is also a carbon-solvent. This lubricant keeps the upper-cylinders and valves of your motor cool, smooth-running and free from carbon ...

an added lubrication service which every modern high-speed motor needs. And so many car owners have discovered that double-duty Tydol means better driving, that we can afford to pay the extra tax for Tydol's extra lubrication feature and still give you this new type motor fuel at no extra cost.

NOTE: TYDOL pays Uncle Sam an extra tax because it contains a special top-cylinder lubricant...yet Tydol, the gasoline that actually lubricates as it drives, does not cost a penny more.

The department and accessory stores are now advertising spring sales of new beautiful automobile seat covers. The latest one we ever saw had blond hair, violet eyes and was 23 years old, even if she did cover only half the seat.

We don't believe that the U. S. Treasury is anywhere near out of money yet. When the money really gets scarce the political experts will be going through the treasury with vacuum cleaners.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS & SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—For Richard Dix it has been a long time between visits to Merrie England, and things have changed greatly in movie since the location trip to London back in 1921 that produced Hall
Caine's "The Christian."

Dix has signed a new contract for three films with R-K-O, and he is permitted to make others in his free time, hence he was able to accept Michael Balcon's offer of a co-starring assignment with Conrad Veidt in
"The Tunnel" for Gaumont British.

In the days of "The Christian," which was one of Richard's first assignments, British film companies were not sending executives to Hollywood in quest of talent; Hollywood was, then as now, getting British actors, but movie-making was enough of a novelty in London that Dix recalls enormous crowds gathered from far and near to witness the making of scenes.

Dix Went 'Balm'
This time Dix, like other Hol-lywoodians lured to the British studios, will work in modern picture-making plants, but for "The Christian" there was a great deal of catch-as-catch-can filming, and no little difficulty at times in securing permission to "shoot" scenes at Bosom Downs provided Rich with his funniest experience.

"We were allowed to set up cameras the night before," he relates,
"but the rest was up to us. It was Derby Day, and the king and queen were there—we got a long shot of them entering their box. My big scene was to go out in the paddock and I had to pay the extra fee required for admission there—and start haranguing the crowd. I wore no make-up, but I had the necessary heavy growth of beard and wore the clerical garments. Well, I slipped out there, turned around and faced our cameras, and started the exhortation. It didn't matter what I said for a silent picture, so I gave an impassioned lecture on a hospital fund I'd heard discussed. The crowd didn't know I was acting, thought
I was just a nut.

TO WAIT FOR STORK

"Out of the corner of my eye I could see two bobbies staring at me, and they were coming over. I had to keep on smiling, wondering how soon they'd be on my neck. But when they got pretty close, one of them turned to the other and said, 'The bloody idiot's batty, ain't he?' (I think everybody agreed with them—but we got the scene.)

Dix's agreement with Balcon, the Gaumont-British executive, has an unique "human interest" angle. The Dixes are expecting the stork early in May, and the star (who isn't particular whether it's a girl or a boy) will not be expected to leave for a month after the child is born, nor then should things fall to go smoothly.

According to a new Cornell bulletin on marketing of farm products in the lower Hudson valley, of all the fruits and vegetables grown in 1932, by 535 representative growers in the counties of Ulster, Dutchess, and Orange, McIntosh apples returned more money than any other single farm commodity.

Broadway: "Life Begins at 40."
The thousands who have read Walter
B. Pitkin's book of the same name will discover, on viewing this film, that the only thing the motion picture people used in producing this film was the title. It's a good thing, because Mr. Pitkin's wordy optimism wouldn't have made good comedy.
The movie version, however, couldn't have been better chosen, because it is one of the funniest pictures Will Rogers has ever starred in. It's an easy going provincial type of show, the kind Mr. Rogers finds so well adapted to his abilities, and in the role of a newspaper editor,
Mr. Rogers settles political arguments, expands on the troubles haunting human society, sings, and even helps a young couple find happiness. And through it all is found a constant stream of comedy, so well done and original that it's sure to meet with favor from any audience.
One episode, when Mr. Rogers paints Slim Summerville's glasses black for an express purpose, is a comedy highlight of the picture. A fine supporting cast includes Dick Cromwell, Rochelle Hudson, George Barbier and June Darwell.

Orpheum: "Carnival" and "Ticket to Crime." The enjoyments and troubles that come to circus people is the reason for the first attraction, a story of carnival life with Lee Tracy in the role of a spier, James Durante is also to be seen in a comedy assignment and Sally Eilers is the live interest. "Ticket to Crime" is the second full length attraction with Ralph Graves featured.

Kingston: "McFadden's Flats" and "Death Flies East." The human interest angle is well brought out during the first play, a story of simple folks so well screened that it offers many a laugh and tear during its unfolding. Especially so when the daughter of one of the families living in the flat comes home from finishing school and high-gets both parents and sweetheart. Walter C. Kelly, Andy Clyde, June Darwell, George
Barbier, Betty Furness and Dick
Cromwell are in the cast. All fam-

East" is a jumbled mystery drama that takes place on a plane heading place, there are whispers of a secret formula aboard and various other troubles arise to cause uneasiness.

Conrad Nagel, Florence Rice and and helpless, the young man invents

a device that will guide on airplane

"Neath Arizona Skies" is a John

Three People Held By Japanese Today

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)
Taihoku, Formosa, May 2—A romantic quest for adventure and sunken treasure in the South Seas had brought a youthful former United States naval lieutenant and two companions to a dismal jail cell in the Formosan port of Taihoku.

The three adventurers, William Shlan Gates, 28-year-old resident of Lancaster, Pa.; H. G. Wrede, a German, and Gene Roubin, a Russian, were held for investigation under grave suspicion of espionage.

Against Gates the Japanese authorities' suspicions were particularly aroused because his United States passport, other papers and own statements disclosed him to be a graduate from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1929 and a lieutenant on the retired list for the past 30 months.

The trio embarked from Shanghai April 2 on the Flying Dutchman, a 30-foot German ketch.

Before they set sail, Gates told newspapermen:

"Our first port of call will be the north coast of Formosa, where we will take on supplies. From there we will go to the Babuyan Islands, north of Luzon, where it is reported there are 20 women to every man.

"We expect to remain long enough to verify this before resuming our voyage through the Philippines and New Guinea to Amodea, Australia and Africa."

Gates who was associated with an unsuccessful treasure hunt to the Cocos Islands two years ago, was retired from the navy because of physical disability.

(Information received in Tokyo of the detention of Gates and his two companions said they had been charged with illegally surveying and photographing the coast. Photographic films of a coastal scene and a marine survey map were said to have been seized as evidence.)

Here's one of those likable little dresses you may wear for active or for spectator sports. The plaited skirt insets will allow you nice easy freedom.

One's mind naturally runs to cottons as gabardine, pique, seersucker, plaided gingham, etc., for such a dress, but there are other materials such as linens, tub silks, etc., which could enter the running, too.

Style No. 3193 is designed for sizes 14, 16, 18 years, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 3 1/2 yards of 35-inch material with 1/4 yard of 35-inch contrasting.

Common-Sense Housedress for Matrons

Wrap-around dresses are the happiest choice for housewives who like to make quick changes. Note the one in the illustration. There is a new in the panel-cut of the back and front. This style is regarded with affection by most large women who take an interest in their figures. Here we see discreet seamlines following the figure so that surplus inches are removed from the region of the waist and an appearance of height achieved in consequence.

The front is in two panels and lapped in the usual way. Three large buttons secure it at the side and the modishy cut revers give a smart trimming to the neckline. Barbara Bell Pattern No. 1648-B is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52. Size 42 requires 2 1/2 yards of 36 inch material; 1/2 yard of 36 inch contrasting.

SEND FOR THE BARBARA BELL PATTERN BOOK. Make yourself attractive, practical and becoming—choose selecting designs from the one hundred and four Barbara Bell well planned, easy-to-make patterns. Interesting and exclusive fashions for little children and the difficult junior age; slenderizing, well cut patterns for the mature figure, afternoon dresses for the most particular young women and matrons and other patterns for special occasions are all to be found in the BARBARA BELL PATTERN BOOK. ## Queen Mary Sets Example As A Housewife; Learned Economy As Young Bride

By GAYLE TALBOT

London (AP)—Asked to give a pen portrait of Queen Mary, first lady of England, the average American would find himself stumped after recalling that she is a sort of handsome, ageless queen who always wears a turban that they make jokes about and who is never seen in public without a silk umbrella.

That is the lesson the picture pages have taught for 25 years, since she ascended the throne with her sailor husband, King George. There is, however, as Britons are fond of pointing out, a good deal more to Queen Mary than that.

She has, for instance, known comparative poverty and lived in part of a rented house. She is an ardent housekeeper; so ardent that none of the scores of servants in Buckingham Palace is ever certain she won't pop up the next minute and find dust on the mantle.

Likes "Those Hats"

Furthermore, she wears those hats because she likes them. She discovered many years ago that the particular model became her more than any other shape. She has ordered them by the dozen ever since. She wears pearl-gray costumes for much the same reason.

Millions of women the world over who have envied Queen Mary her sumptuous residence at Buckingham Palace do not know what she has been up against. Only women, her friends say, who have inherited difficult, old-fashioned houses with inconvenient pieces of furniture, can appreciate her position.

She has devoted most of the last 25 years to trying to modernize the great house at the head of the Mall, refurbishing one room at a time and gradually getting things to suit her taste. It's been a trial, they say.

The queen's knowledge of house-keeping comes from personal experience. As the daughter of the Duchess of Teck, an amazingly unconventional and imprudent woman, most of her girlhood was spent helping cope with domestic difficulties.

Lived in "Cottage"

The duchess, although possessed of only a modest income, was the most enthusiastic first-nighter in London and believed in entertaining one and all, including theatrical celebrities, on a lavish scale. As a result, there came a time when the future queen, then 16, and her mother had to go to Italy for a couple of years to economize. That was when she lived in the rented house, or part of it.

Even after she married George, then the Duke of York, things were not too rosy. The duke's income was small, the cottage in which they lived at Sandringham was even smaller, and as the royal children continued to arrive economy became a real problem. Mary kept her own household books and even did much of her own shopping.

Of the 37,882,432 trees planted during the year on reforestation areas in New York state, approximately one-half of the trees were planted by CCC labor, the resultant saving to the state's reforestation program being nearly $100,000.

Shall We Burn the Adirondack Forests

Will the people burn the Adirondack and Catskill forests or will these priceless resources be preserved? That is the question confronting the citizens of New York state and the authorities of the state. Will the ignorance and lack of self-control of the fire-setting class of hunters, fishermen, campers and tourists keep on imposing tremendous costs to prevent and suppress fires until both money and human effort are able no longer to withstand the rising tide of this criminal carelessness?

New York state has had an excellent record in the control and extinction of forest fires since the establishment of the present system in 1908, but the record of the number of fires set by persons, who use the forests and, therefore, might be supposed to have the keenest desire for their perpetuation and safety, indicates a serious situation both in the state and the nation. New York state is worse off than the nation. Last year in the Adirondacks and Catskills there was an increase of approximately 43 per cent in the number of man-caused fires over 1932, while the increase in the national forests was 35 per cent over a three-year average.

Weather conditions have a lot to do with the number of fires set, but weather unaided cannot set a forest fire. Conditions favorable to the burning of the forests always reveal the disgraceful carelessness and downright ignorance on the part of tobacco smokers and the builders of camp fires who cause a preponderance of forest conflagrations. The Conservation Department, in its annual report for 1933, said: "The most destructive fires were caused by sportsmen. During the summer, campers and fishermen were responsible for an unnecessarily large number of fires, difficult to extinguish because they invariably burn deep into the soil. Hunters in the Adirondacks were responsible for the most extensive fires in recent years." These statements are indictments of the users of the forests. Unless each individual citizen wakes up to the responsibilities, which he has assumed through the use of the privileges provided for him by the purchase and maintenance of the unexcelled recreational facilities in the Adirondacks and Catskills some dry, windy season, there may be no more Adirondack forests and no more Catskill forests.

Care in handling fire in the forests should be taught in every school room and urged in every magazine and newspaper in the country with frequent repetition. The educational work done this year must be done again next year for the new generation and those who missed it before or forgot.

Spring Institute of W. C. T. U. The spring institute of the Ulster County W. C. T. U. will be held in the M. E. Church at Milton, May 8, beginning at 10 a. m. Those desiring to go are asked to please notify Mrs. George W. Shultis, 96 St. James street, or 'phone 2148-R not later than Monday, May 6. All are asked to bring a box luncheon. The ladies of the church will serve coffee.

To Conduct Group at Glee Club Concert

ANDREW J. BAIRD

An exceptionally well balanced program will greet those who attend the joint concert of 400 voices of the Hudson Valley Glee Clubs which will be held at the Municipal Auditorium on Friday, May 10. This program, sponsored by the members of the Mendelssohn Club of Kingston, will be given by 11 Glee Clubs of the Hudson Valley and adjacent towns including Schenectady, Troy, Fort Jervis, Stamford, Conn., and the soloist of the evening will be Mary Hopple, contralto. Dancing will follow the musical portion of the program.

The program will be in four groups with different conductors leading each group, thus a well balanced program will be given and there will be the sort of numbers which will appeal to the average audience. A variety of moods is expressed in the various numbers, not only in the music but in the texts as well.

In the group conducted by Andrew J. Baird the "Creations Hymn" makes a dignified and impressive opening number and the "Glory of God in Nature" is extolled. The second number of Mr. Baird's group, "Goin' Home," will always make an appeal inasmuch as the melody is derived from the immortal symphony, "The New World" by Dvorak. This symphony was written during Dvorak's stay in America between 1892 and 1895 and is based on themes which while original closely resemble negro and Indian melodies. "The Lost Chord" by Sullivan is a favorite with everyone and in the arrangement by John Hyatt Brewer it has been born again, closing as it does with the four mighty Amen's.

Andrew J. Baird, who will conduct this group, was born in Goshen, N. Y., and started his musical training at an early age under local teachers. Later he studied piano with the famous virtuoso, Jessie Shay. This was followed by a number of years study of organ with the late J. Warren Andrews, former warden of the American Guild of Organists and organist of the Church of the Divine Paternity, New York. Following this he studied Harmony, Counterpoint and Theory with Warren Redden in New York city. In 1919 he passed the examinations of the American Guild of Organists, giving him the degree of A. A. G. O. Mr. Baird has appeared as concert organist in most of the principal cities of the east.

It was in 1924 that he became private organist for Mrs. E. H. Harriman at her Arden House estate and in the nine years following gave over 200 organ recitals on the four manual Aeolian organ. In 1917 Mr. Baird founded the Apollo Club Male Chorus of Middletown, N. Y., and has directed this organization ever since. In 1921 he became organist of the Reformed Church, Poughkeepsie, and a year later the conductor of the Orpheus Club of that city. Since then he has been made director of the Schubert Club Male Chorus, Port Jervis, N. Y., and the Lyric Club, an organization of 45 ladies' voices in Poughkeepsie, which is now in its sixth season.

William McElrath
Rounds Out Quarter
Century as Fireman

Fellow Firemen Met At Central Fire Station Wednesday to Pay Honor to Him—Presented With Signet Ring by Members of Kingston Paid Firemen's Association.

William McElrath on Wednesday rounded out a quarter of a century as a member of the Kingston Fire Department and at 6 o'clock that evening the members of the Kingston Paid Firemen's Association, of which he is treasurer, met at the Central Fire Station and presented him with a handsome signet ring. On the ring is the figure "2" denoting the fact that he is the second fireman to round out 25 years as a member of the fire department. The No. 1 man is Wright Maines who was presented with a signet ring last year when he completed his quarter century as a fireman. Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy also rounded out a quarter of a century service last year and was presented with a ring at that time.

It was a special meeting of the Firemen's Association that was called for last evening and Fireman McElrath had no inkling that the meeting was called in his honor when he was notified to be present. Irving Egnor, president of the association, presided at the meeting and called on Fire Chief Murphy who paid a tribute to Fireman McElrath who he said had just concluded 25 years of efficient service as a member of the department. Every fireman, said the chief, was a public servant and for that reason should be courteous to the public at all times and ready to give his life if necessary in protecting lives and property. That was what the man they were honoring that night had done. The chief said that the younger men in the department could not remember the days when a fireman worked the full 24 hours a day and had but one day off in every ten, for now the two platoon system was in effect in the department. A man had to be a real fireman, said the chief, to serve 25 years, and if you follow Bill McElrath in a fire you will be following a real fireman.

Chief Murphy then introduced City Judge Bernard A. Culliton, attorney for the association, who had been invited by the firemen to make the presentation of the ring to Fireman McElrath. Judge Culliton said that he considered it an honor to be chosen on such an occasion to make the presentation, for it was a worthwhile accomplishment for any man to serve 25 years. A man who had rounded out a quarter of a century on the job was a man deserving the commendation of his fellow men. It spoke well for Bill McElrath that for over a period of a quarter of a century he had been able to hold the esteem and good will of his fellow firemen. Judge Culliton said that it was fitting that some material token be presented to commemorate a quarter century of faithful service.

and he was honored by the firemen's association in being permitted to make the presentation of the ring to McElrath as a memento of their friendship and their wish that McElrath may enjoy many more years of happiness, success and good health.

Fireman McElrath in accepting the gift spoke briefly and said that he thanked the boys from the bottom of his heart for their gift which he would always cherish.

The officers of the Kingston Paid Firemen's Association are: President, Irving Egnor; vice-president, Fred LaTour; secretary, Wright Maines; and treasurer, William McElrath. The members of the association are Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, Deputy Fire Chief Fred M. Leverich and Firemen William McElrath, William Geary, Richard Smith, James Conlin, Harry Richter, Edward Noble, Fred LaTour, John Struble, George Matthews, Harold Sanford, Wright Maines, James Hutton, Clarence Maines, Joseph Diech, Preston DeWitt, Fred Williams, Joseph Diamond, Charles V. Brown, Peter Carey, Irving Egnor and John Heppner.

CONFESSES DROWNING SMALL GIRL

Frank Flynn, 35-year-old garage manager, is shown at right as he left police headquarters in New York after reportedly confessing he had slain 8-year-old Margaret Parkins by drowning her in the bathtub of his apartment in Astoria, Long Island. A medical examiner said the girl had been asphyxiated, but police said Flynn confessed only the drowning. (Associated Press Photo)

American Hobbies
Are Now on Exhibition

New York, May 2 (AP)—In a hobby show that covered three acres, the hobby of William H. Van Shrum and Bertha, his wife,—boomerang throwing—shone like a bright star. The boomerang is the native Australian's weapon of warfare, which travels in a circle and returns to the owner if it misses the enemy. They displayed this leisure-time activity at the hobby roundup of the Leisure League of America—a show that ranged from the collecting of old-time baby buggies to the carving of pictures on coconuts. Dog food, machines, books of poetry, porch furniture, young fruit trees and a collection of speakeasy cards were among 4,000 examples of America's leisure-time pursuits. Boomerang-throwing, a guide explained, belongs in the second major division of hobbies. The four divisions are: Learning, doing, making and collecting. "I throw boomerangs whenever I get the opportunity," said Mrs. Van Shrum, who, in her husband's opinion, is the greatest woman boomerang-thrower in the world. "I've been throwing them ever since we were married," she said. Her husband, a ruddy, gray-haired man, buried his favorite six-play boomerang and said, "It's a great sport. It involves all kinds of motions—stooping, reaching, jumping, grabbing and dodging. 'Anybody can do it. You can throw them in your own parlor.' He picked up another boomerang, threw it with his mouth and caught it the same way. "That," he said, "is the finest thing that can be done." Forty organizations—among them the Seaman's Church Institute, the National Amateur Athletic Union, the Adult Education Council, the Girl Scouts and the Port of New York Authority, and as many firms took part in the hobby show.

16. England's Princess Royal

The only daughter of King George is Princess Mary, born April 25, 1897, the only girl in a family of five children. The Princess Royal married Viscount Lascelles, now the sixth Earl of Harewood, in 1922. Their two sons are George, aged 12, and Gerald, aged 10. The princess had just finished celebrating her 13th birthday when her father, now celebrating his silver jubilee, ascended the throne. The picture shows the princess with her husband.

ZENA

Zena, May 1.—Last Friday evening the Union Congregational Christian Endeavor Society from Ponckhockie, Kingston, were entertained by the Zena C. E. and at 6:30 the young folks gathered at the Social Hall which had been very prettily decorated in pastel shades of pink, green and lavender. Fifty young folk sat down to the tables where the same color scheme had been carried out and they enjoyed a delicious supper and had a very happy time. Following the supper all gathered up at the church where many others had gathered and the Kingston C. E. presented the religious drama "Hall of My Goods" by Ralph P. Claggett and directed by Mrs. John Heidenreich. The young people who took the various parts gave a splendid interpretation and the pageant was very much enjoyed by the audience. The Zena folk deserve a great deal of credit for the splendid manner in which they handled their job of hosts under the leadership of their president, Miss Helen Long.

Services and Sunday School in the Reformed Church were held Sunday at the usual time. The Rev. Mr. Heidenreich preached and the young ladies' chorus sang "I would be like Jesus." Miss Helen Long was at the organ.

Easter vacations are over and the many who spent them in Zena have returned to their various homes and duties. Dr. Eurell and Miss Seegar and several guests from Rochester returned after 10 days stay at their log cabin here. Miss Florence Hill returned to Zena from her visit to Gouvernville and resumed her duties as teacher. Miss Anne Reinhold and Mrs. Baylor returned to Staten Island, having spent the week on Tichenor Farm. Frank Tichenor and Walter Richards came up for the week-end. Painful Piles

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Suffering

If you think an operation is always the only way to cure the misery of hemorrhoids, it's because you haven't heard of Hem-Rid, the harmless internal medicine discovered by a western physician.

After years of study Dr. J. S. Lownhardt was convinced that the cause of piles was internal—and decided to bleed them in the lower bowel—the better, instead of being filled with stagnant blood—and that the right and safe way to get freedom from this agony was to remove the cause with an internal medicine. He made the doctor get to work to find the remedy. He succeeded and called his preparation HEM-RID.

The culture developed an immunity to the effect of drugs when Hem-Rid was used and all druggists say, "No matter what kind of piles you have, one bottle of HEM-RID cures you when you use the safe, clean way to get rid of your piles, misery in thirty days." —A.S.

Wall Street Bets 4-1 as West "Soup" Thickens

Milwaukee, May 2 (AP)—Whether it would change the "Wall Street betting" odds, he didn't know, but the register of deeds here today was willing to fill the request of a Broadway actor for a copy of the license the actor said he obtained here in 1911 when he married movie Mae West.

To register of deeds George A. Bowman, who held down a humdrum job until the Wallace-West license turned up here ten days ago, came a letter from Frank Wallace, 225 West 45th street, New York city, reading: "Kindly advise me of proper steps necessary to obtain a photostatic copy of my marriage license to Mae West on April 11, 1911. Let me know what evidence or information you require."

Bowman said evidence and information was unnecessary, but a 50-cent fee would be needed.

"Everybody who knows me on Broadway believes I was Mae West's husband," said Wallace in New York.

"Why Wall street is betting 4 to 1 on me".

The actor said he still has his 1911 copy of the license, but "it's where I can't get it right now, in a secret place."

He said he also had in a trunk in another "secret place" the letters from Mae who denied marrying this Wallace, a dead Wallace and several less fully identified husbands.

Wallace said he had kept quiet through the years "because I didn't want to pull Mae down".

"But when I saw the story in the papers", he continued, "it was like a great light dawning and I saw no reason to deny it any longer."

When the license first turned up in the musty files of the registry, the Wallace named was believed to be one who played in Miss West's famous Broadway play "Diamond Lil". Wallace, however, said that one must be dead, since he never was in the play.

Wallace said James Timoney, Miss West's manager, obtained a divorce for him and the movie queen in 1916.

"I didn't even have a chance to read it. I was in ill health and went right to the hospital after that," said Wallace.

Yes, as a canner says, this is the canning age. Especially the age of canned thinking.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

A playful summer is in prospect with so many smart fashions being shown, all designed especially for happy, healthful days on the sand and in the sun.

These new play outfits vary in composition—some consist of two pieces, combining suit with separate skirt; others are more elaborate, such as the four-piece model sketched above. This beach costume is not designed for the mermaid or water sports, being intended for playful "landlubbers," who romp or stroll on the beach sands or for playing around the lake at the summer resort—it is the last word in smartness.

A halter and shorts compose the play suit; there is a separate front buttoned skirt to cover it and a separate shoulder cape that provides protection when the sun's rays get too hot.

White pique fashions each piece of this costume which is trimmed with bright red and blue bias banding. Pearl buttons fasten the skirt, and the red and blue trimmings is repeated around the hemline and up the front. The play suit halter uses a colorful and nautical pilot wheel motif to decorate the front.

LABORER LAY IN FIELD

24 DAYS UNABLE TO WALK

Syracuse, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—Steve Ross, 48-year-old railroad laborer, who said he collapsed and lay helpless in a field for 24 days, today faced amputation of both feet to save his life.

Chief Fred Ray of the East Syracuse Fire Department found Ross yesterday afternoon when he saw Ross feebly waving an arm while lying near a creek in the field. Ross was reported missing last April 6.

From his hospital cot he said his feet "gave out" and he collapsed while walking across the field "about three weeks ago." He said he couldn't stand and was unconscious most of the time.

"When I could," he continued, "I tried to crawl on my hands and knees to some place where someone would find me. I couldn't yell to attract attention. Every little while I would drag myself to the creek and drink a little of water."

Ross said he was not aware of how much time passed since he regained consciousness only at intervals.

He was found to be suffering from frozen feet and gangrene. Surgeons were to decide today whether it would be necessary to amputate both feet to save his life.

A native of Hungary, Ross came to the United States in 1903, and had lived in East Syracuse six years.

Germany is building submarines again and establishing them in a North Sea base, and how long will it be till ships are "spurious vermen" again in another "war to end war"?

States Slums Object Of Improvement Drive

Albany, N. Y., May 2 (AP)—With federal dollars for powder, New York state municipalities are blasting out slum areas from Brooklyn to Buffalo to take a leading role in the national campaign to improve living conditions for millions of citizens.

New York city, which already has several reconstruction and slum clearance projects underway, has the most ambitious housing program of the state's cities.

An application for $150,000,000 of the money the federal government is willing to lend on a 30 per cent grant, 70 per cent loan basis has been filed with public work relief administration officials by the city housing authority.

The money, if granted, will be used for four projects involving extensive clearance of run-down and dilapidated areas, to create 98,500 rooms and other construction work. It is estimated from 50,000 to 60,000 persons will be given jobs during the peak reconstruction period.

Projects now underway in New York city include reconstruction of 22 rickety tenement buildings on the East Side with $400,000 from the FERA through the temporary emergency relief administration; assembling a 12 block area in Williamsburg where the federal government already has paid out $1,000,000 for land; a demolition project where a total of 556 buildings with an aggregate frontage of two miles have been razed at an expenditure of $700,000.

Get out your scrap bag and select the gayest patches for this basket of tulips. You'll have them applied in a jiffy and then you can make your porch or living room gay. There are matching sprays for a scarf, too. You can make a stunning refreshment cloth if you like. The leaves and basket are done entirely in embroidery—in fact you can even do the tulips in that too, if you like.

In pattern 5336 you will find a transfer pattern of a motif 12 x 12 inches, four motifs 4 x 4 inches and the pattern pieces for the patches. Illustrations of all stitches needed; material requirements; color suggestions; directions for doing patchwork.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y.

Sergeant J.V. Simpson Has 20th Anniversary

It was on May 1, 1915, that James V. Simpson, now sergeant in the Kingston police department, assumed his duties as a patrolman, and he celebrated his 20th anniversary as a policeman quietly on Wednesday, which also happened to be his day of duty. Sergeant Simpson before he joined the police department, was superintendent of streets during the Irwin administration.

AMERICAN LEGION TO HOLD MEETING FOR POPPY DAY

The Poppy Day workers will have a meeting in the American Legion Memorial Building, Friday night at 8 o'clock. It is important that all Legionnaires and members of the Legion Auxiliary attend.

About 80 per cent of the cattle bought by the government in the drought emergency of 1934 were cows and heifers.

Relief Gardeners Start Work in Gardens Here

Wednesday a number of men on the relief rolls who had signified their intention of having a garden this year, called at the commissary or at the municipal gardens on land of the Kingston Lumber Company and received their supply of seeds and started work of making a garden.

Seeds were given out to 149 men who plan to have home gardens this year. The packages distributed contained seeds for peas, beans, onions, etc. Seed potatoes were also distributed and planted Wednesday.

So great was the demand for municipal gardens this year that the Kingston Lumber Company has granted the use of additional land, and the work of plowing it was started on Wednesday.

Indications point to the fact that the garden project this year will be even larger than the successful project held last year by the local emergency relief bureau.

About 475 Men Will Resume Work Friday

At the local emergency relief bureau it was stated today that Friday morning about 475 men on the relief rolls will resume work on the work projects in the city. Work on the projects was halted last week when the funds were exhausted.

Auto Hit Tree and Scully Was Uninjured

As Radio Car No. 2 was passing through Hurley avenue at 2:50 o'clock this morning the driver of the car saw an automobile against a tree in front of the Beatty farm. Investigating it was found that the Pontiac sedan was badly damaged but William Scully of 43 Brewster street, who was driving the car, was apparently unhurt. The car, according to the police record, is owned by Dr. Rosenberg of 755 Broadway, who had given Scully permission to use it.

Bitter Fighting in India
Peshawar, India, May 2 (AP)—The assassination two days ago of a prominent tribal leader and two of his relatives at Wadistan on the wild frontier precipitated bitter fighting among the tribesmen. More than 20 deaths resulted. Friends of Khan Sahib Zangl, seeking revenge for his murder and that of two of his male relatives, raided the headquarters of Habib Khan, whom they accused as the slayer. Habib Khan and 24 of his followers were killed by the raiding tribesmen. Fifteen of the attackers were either killed or wounded.

No matter how much we may agree or disagree with Senator Long and his theories there seems to be little doubt as to his ability to gain the attention of the public through the newspaper and the radio.

Girl Scouts

ULSTER COUNTY COUNCIL

The Ulster County Girl Scout Camp Committee is very busy these days interviewing prospects for positions at Camp Wendy this summer. To date the following staff has been selected:

Director—Miss Lillian Parish.
Pioneer Counselors Unit—Jean Anderson, Margaret Stanton.
Tinkerbell—Alice Kramer, Carolyn Jewitt, Ethel Jackson.
Dietitian—Estelle Putz.
Cook—Mrs. Busch.
Manager Peter Pan—Catherine Burke.
Business Manager—Betty Crow.
Waterfront—Una Holmes, Willy Drumm.

Camp Wendy is a kind of up-to-date Utopia, where there is no buying or selling, no rivalry, even in clothes, no competition in athletics, no straining after any goal. It is a place where only things count that have enduring value, the kind of things that are at once the substance and the source of life.

Meals, sleep and exercise for mind, soul and body are the main ingredients of the camp program. The exercise, mental and otherwise, includes dramatics, nature lore, nearly all the arts, athletics and other things indefinable, such as watching the clouds drift on a windy day or waiting hours in a wood to photograph a pheasant.

Water sports are a feature of the Camp Wendy program. The counselors in charge of waterfront activities hope to make every Girl Scout a swimmer this summer. Life saving is taught under the American Red Cross rules. Every camper is encouraged to be as much at home in the water as on dry land.

Life in camp, divested as it is of all that is artificial and extraneous, presents its problems in the raw, so to speak, and one cannot solve them by running to mother. A girl who has been to camp usually discovers what she is made of; whether she is dependable and resourceful as an individual and whether she is kind and co-operative as a member of a group. That is excellent training for citizenship as well as for happy family life.

The cost of a vacation at Camp Wendy is a minimum. There are no luxuries but no essential for safety and health is overlooked.

The girl who is not old enough to become a Scout need not feel that she will not be accepted at Camp Wendy because there is a very interesting unit called Brownies, composed of girls whose ages range from seven to ten years. These Brownies are most welcome each year, have very careful supervision and a special program.

It is hoped that many will avail themselves of the opportunity of attending camp this summer. Encampment period July 6th to August 1st.

JEKYLL AND HYDE CASES ARE CURABLE

After Long Sleep Patient Soon Becomes Normal.

Moscow.—Doctor Jekyll might have banished the troublesome Mr. Hyde entirely from his life—simply by sleeping long enough.

That is the opinion of Soviet scientists who have been experimenting recently with schizophrenia, the form of divided personality on which Robert Louis Stevenson based his famous story.

Schizophrenia, a state which leads eventually to complete insanity, is curable, in certain cases, they declare, by prolonged sleep, induced by drugs. And though the process is still admittedly an experimental stage some practical success has been recorded.

Basis of the assertion is a case treated by Dr. M. Serebry at the Moscow Psychiatric Institute.

An inmate of an asylum who had been insane for two years was brought to the institute, according to a recent publication of Doctor Serebry. Using various types of drugs physicians kept him sleeping for ten days.

For two or three days following his nap, the patient was in a virtual coma from the effects of the drugging, but thereafter, it is declared, he returned to a normal state, showing no signs of split personality, or hallucinations.

An interesting feature of the case is that the patient, on his awakening remembered nothing of his life during the previous three years. When his son was brought to him, he remembered the boy perfectly, but was surprised at his growth.

After 20 days, the patient was released from the institute, apparently cured.

Very few cases of a cure of schizophrenia are on record, according to Doctor Serebry and even the causes of the mental disease are unknown. Stevenson, in his story, was compelled to put Jekyll in possession of a mysterious personality-changing drug.

Admittedly, the method developed here cannot be used in all cases, as an extremely strong physique is necessary to withstand the effects of prolonged drugging. In two other cases here the patients proved unable to take the full dose of drugs believed to be required. Doctors say, however, that they showed some improvement after shorter periods of sleep.

Because park wardens have been unable to round them up, the eighty deer that were to be moved from Rondau Provincial Park to sections of Ontario where stocks of deer have been depleted, will not be transferred until the fall.

In County Granges

Stone Ridge. Parents' Night will be observed at the next regular meeting of Stone Ridge Grange on Monday, May 6, at 8:30 o'clock. Each Grange member who is a parent has been sent a special invitation to be present. The lecturer and some of the talented members are planning a very interesting program featuring the important periods of a person's life. There will also be an old-fashioned spelling match between a team of parents and other members.

The refreshment committee for the evening will be Mr. and Mrs. William Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Weston and Mr. and Mrs. Elton Parry, Jr.

A Good Will Social for members and their friends was held on Tuesday, April 23. A jolly crowd of about 75 enjoyed a covered dish supper and an evening of games and dancing. Music was furnished by a "peppy" orchestra from Kingston who are known as "The Duckrooks". The square dances and Paul Jones were very popular with the younger folks. The hour of midnight arrived all too soon but there are hopes of another social in the future.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, May 2 (AP).—The silver boom seemed somewhat tarnished today and bullish sentiment in the stock exchange and other speculative markets was dampened.

The slump in London silver prices pulled down non-ferrous metal shares and much of the rest of the industrial share list sagged with them, despite isolated strength in Chrysler and a few others, and comparative steadiness in rails and utilities.

Chrysler, responding to its extra dividend of 25 cents and favorable first quarter earnings, rose 2 points in very active dealings, but General Motors was held back by the shutting down of some of its plants resulting from the Toledo labor controversy. Such non-ferrous metals as Cerro de Pasco, U. S. Smelting and Hove Sound dropped a point or two, and American Smelting and Anaconda were off fractions. Industrials losing 1 to 2 points included Eastman, Allied Chemical and Coca-Cola, while U. S. Steel, Case, Johnsonville and several others lost fractions. American Telephone was a firm spot, up a point, and Pullman and Westinghouse Electric registered similar gains.

First Presbyterian Church Election

At an adjourned meeting of the corporation and a specially called church meeting in the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street last night by-laws were passed and four deacons were elected.

The by-laws were presented by a committee composed of William F. Niles, chairman; Chester A. Baltz, Robert Murray and Hartford Shultis. These by-laws were a substitution for those in force prior to 1911. They provide for election of trustees in three classes, confirming the by-law passed a year ago making re-election impossible, and that voted a month ago creating the office of financial secretary to be appointed by the elders. Walter Waite has been selected for this office while the trustees have reappointed William T. Norwood, a former trustee, for the ensuing year.

Deacons elected for three years in the church meeting were Donald Buewell, Donald Clark and Howard Stephens, while William Evans was elected for two years to fill the unexpired term of Duane Forman who resigned when elected a trustee at last month's meeting. They will be ordained and installed Sunday morning, May 12.

Clerks of the meetings were: For the church, Robert D. Evans, Jr., clerk of session; for the corporation, Robert Murray, clerk of trustees; Miss Frieda Niebergall was official stenographer. Chester A. Baltz presided over the corporation meeting. The Rev. James N. Armstrong, Jr., pastor of the Roundout Presbyterian church, presided over the meeting of the church, in the absence of the Rev. Goodrich Gates. Dr. Gates was in America by appointment of the Presbytery of North River to assist in the installation of a minister.

Installed Pastor Of Amenia Church

The Rev. Augustus H. Griffin, formerly of Summit, N. J., was installed last night as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Amenia by a committee of the North River Presbytery comprising the Rev. Irving M. Haynes of Wappingers Falls, moderator; the Rev. Charles K. Imbrie, D. D., of Newburgh and the Rev. Goodrich Gates of this city.

The Rev. Mr. Griffin succeeds the late Rev. Samuel W. Siele, D. D. The service of worship preceding the installation was led by the Rev. Mr. Haynes. The invocation prayer was offered by the Rev. Charles Newton, pastor of the Amenia Baptist Church. The Rev. Rockwell S. Brank, D. D., of the Central Presbyterian Church, Summit, N. J., a former pastor of Mr. Griffin, read the Scripture lesson. The Rev. Benjamin Bentley of the Wassaic Presbyterian Church led in the general prayer. The sermon by the Rev. Royal McK. Merritt of New York Presbytery, cited the accomplishments of the Oxford Group as evidence of a new renaissance of religious devotion.

In the formal induction following, the Constitutional questions to pastor and congregation were read by the moderator, who then offered the prayer of installation. The charge to the pastor was given by the Imbrie of Newburgh. He is pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in that city. The charge to the people was delivered by Dr. Gates, minister of the First Presbyterian Church of this city. The newly installed pastor then pronounced the apostolic benediction.

Mr. Griffin is a graduate of Princeton Theological Seminary. He was received and formally enrolled in the North River Presbytery when it held its stated spring meeting last month in the First Presbyterian Church on Elmendorf street, this city. After preaching for several weeks in the Amenia Church he was extended a unanimous call to be pastor, which call the presbytery confirmed.

Installation of Rev. A. E. Oudemool

The Rev. A. E. Oudemool, who recently accepted a call to become pastor of the First Reformed Church of Kingston, succeeding the late Rev. Dr. Lucas Boeve, will be formally installed as pastor of the church on Wednesday evening, May 8. The services will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Rev. Dr. Frank E. Seeley, pastor of the Fair Street Reformed Church, will preach the installation sermon. The charge to the pastor will be given by the Rev. J. B. Steere and the charge to the congregation will be given by the Rev. Charles L. Palmer.

As the Rev. Mr. Oudemool was recently elected president of the Classis of Ulster, the Rev. Eugene C. Durryen of Blue Mountains, temporary clerk of Classis, will preside and read the form.

Police Enforcing Parking Regulations

Motorists who have been accustomed to pay little if any attention to the no parking signs on the left side of John street and to signs prohibiting parking for over one hour on the other side of John street and on Wall street will save themselves a possible trip to the city hall by observing the regulations. The police are putting stickers on cars found violating the rules. A number of drivers upon returning to their cars Wednesday found them decorated with the blue sign.

Federal Agents Gather Loose Ends of Warwick "Crime Syndicate"

Providence, R. I., May 2 (AP).—Loose ends that dangle into a half dozen cities from the Warwick base of an alleged "crime syndicate" were gathered in today by federal officers.

Perhaps the most important of numerous contemplated moves was contained in the announcement of a federal official, who declined the use of his name, that indictments would be sought in Boston today under the Lindbergh law, which sets death as the penalty for kidnapping.

The indictment would be sought in connection with the slaying last Friday of Addino Merola, whose body was found at Wrentham, Mass. The discovery of Merola's body marked the beginning of a drive which smashed what authorities called the biggest crime ring in the history of Rhode Island. Postal inspectors believed the investigation may lead to the solution of five robberies which netted more than $700,000.

The 24th member of the alleged "crime syndicate" was taken into custody in New York last week. He is John "Sonny" McGloin, 31, who is described as one of the "trigger men" in the Fall River, Mass., mail truck robbery last January.

Several members of the gang now held as federal prisoners are charged with implication in the $125,000 Fall River holdup. Shay, in New York, said it was possible some members of the gang also might be linked with a $427,000 armored truck robbery in Brooklyn, N. Y., mail truck robbery in Butler, Pa., and Warren, Ohio, and an express company robbery in Perth Amboy, N. Y.

There were numerous other angles being investigated. One was the possibility that Justice Joseph P. Crater of the New York Supreme Court, who disappeared several years ago, had, at one time, been detained in the Warwick Villa, which federal men and police have referred to as the base of the Rettig gang.

Carl Rettig, alleged leader of the gang, is being held by federal men here in $125,000.

Observance of Music Week Here

Alderman Paul Zucca, who for several years past has represented the National Music Week Committee in encouraging as wide as possible an observance of National Music Week in Kingston, notes that there will be at least two such observances in the city next week.

On Thursday, May 9, at a joint noon luncheon meeting of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs, a musical program will be given. The program is being arranged by Mrs. William M. Mills.

Friday night, May 10, the combined glee clubs of the Hudson valley will give their big concert in the Municipal Auditorium.

It is announced that a concerted effort toward the preservation of music and the other arts as a vital community force amid these trying times is to be the main objective of the 12th annual National Music Week, to be celebrated on May 5-11.

The committee particularly urges that the celebration be made a medium for obtaining a greater public support for whatever musical or other art projects or activities in a given community may have been endangered in this period of depression, or may need an added impulse.

The assistance of the local Music Week committee is being enlisted in the matter of bridging the gap between the schools and the functioning of school music training in adult life—a problem which, in the opinion of educators, represents a great waste of the musical talents and aptitudes developed in the public schools.

"If we are to avoid a partial wastage," declared C. M. Tremaine, Secretary of the National Music Week Committee, "of the very large sum spent, and wisely spent, annually for musical instruction, we must utilize every such stimulus as the Music Week for expanding the opportunities for active music-making on the part of our young people after they are graduated from our schools and colleges. At present, as John Erskine has phrased it, most of our young folks following their graduation, go through 'the great American ritual of dropping their music.'

Force Complete Shut-Down. Goldboro, N. C., May 2 (AP).—Several hundred employees of the Atlas Plywood Company here today forced a complete shut-down of operations as they tightened strike lines in a fight against an order reducing hourly wage rates and increasing the length of the work week.

Predicts Violence. Hartford, Conn., May 2 (AP).—Joseph M. Adley of New Haven, representative of several large trucking concerns, today predicted "much violence" as negotiations in the interstate truck drivers strike ended and trucking companies announced their intention of hiring strike breakers.

New York led all the states of the union in tree planting in 1934, according to figures compiled by Lithgow Osborn, conservation commissioner. This state planted 49,564, 212 trees and of this total 27,932, 132 were planted upon reforestation areas alone. The remainder was planted on state lands in the forest preserves. Throughout the country there were 154,999,000 trees planted, the largest number in any one year. Of this amount approximately 59,000,000 trees were set out on state forest lands and about 73,000,000 on national forests.

Legumes will not add strength to the soil unless the entire plant is plowed under at maturity, agricultural experimenters have shown.

Mohicans Establish New Single Record In Silver Palace, 1044

The Mohicans, rolling against the Herzogs in the Gold Division of the Silver Palace Bowling League at Emerick's alleys, Wednesday, made a new single record, 1044.

It was in the third game that the record was made, as Ricketson, Boosneck and Sampson all rolled over 200, J. Huber 185 and Hymes, 193. In the first game Hymes turned in the best single of the night, 245.

1044 rolled by the Mohicans bettered the mark made by the Herzogs, 1931, last October 10.

Making the record, the Mohicans defeated the Herzogs 2-1. Individual scores of this match and others last night were:

Protest Meeting For City League

Another protest meeting will be held by City Baseball League managers, Friday evening, to vote on whether Willard Thomas should be allowed to play in the loop.

Thomas, who signed with the Hercules, and was released by them last Tuesday, has joined the Schryver Lumber Company now. Some of the managers claim he is not eligible to play according to a ruling which states a player cannot shift from one team to another until the end of the first half of the schedule.

Whether Thomas will be ruled out of the league remains to be settled by a vote of the managers at the meeting. The session will be held in the city court room, with City Judge Bernard A. Culliton, president of the league, presiding. Starting time is 7:30.

In place of Thomas, the Hercules have signed Frank McGuire, it was announced by Manager George Walker.

Kingston High Will Open DUSO Season At Middletown Saturday

Saturday afternoon at Wilson

Field, Middletown, the Kingston High School baseball team will swing into its DUSO campaign, meeting as its first league enemy the team representing the forces of Middle-town High School.

Both of the teams are veteran out-puts in every department except one. This exception is the battery. If the Middies and the Maroon had suitable pitching both would be contenders for the DUSO crown. It seems strange that pitching should be the weak spot of these two teams when one remembers the illustrious pitching feats that have dominated Mid-dletown-Kingston games in the past.

In 1932 Kingston and Middletown played two games, each going over 14 innings. These games were played when Bill Thomas did the twirling for the Klasmans.

Lou Glenn, husky fire-ball twir-ler, will be the probable starter on the mound for Kingston in Satur-day's contest. Ben Toffel, regarded as the No. 1 man on the pitching staff, has, since Monday, complained of a sore arm. Glenn, who was picked for six hits in the five-in-ning last Friday, has shown rapid improvement in his control since the beginning of the practice sessions.

Zoller, the other member of the pitching staff, has a sore arm, too. Kingston's record so far this season shows one defeat in one game played, the defeat being suffered at the hands of the Alumni in the season's opener last Friday. The score was 7-6. A year ago the Alumni defeated the Varsity 9-7 in the season's opener. Kingston then went on to defeat every team in the DUSO League except Newburgh and Port Jervis.

The rest of Kingston's lineup for the game Saturday will probably consist of Jack Linden at first, Jack Murphy at second, Chappy Van Der-see at short, Ralph DeCicco at third and Mac Tiano behind the platter with Elmer Hopper, Tom Maines and either Clay Harder or Tony Rhinehardt in the outfield.

The Klasmans were originally scheduled to play Saugerties yester-day at the Fair Grounds. This game was cancelled, however, and will probably be played next Wednesday. A week from Saturday Kingston will play Newburgh.

Port Jervis got off to a flying start in the DUSO pennant race last Saturday by defeating Newburgh, the co-favorite with Port, for the crown, by a score of 6-1. Lord, pitching for Port Jervis, allowed the Newburgh nine only three hits and fanned ten. Hunter, pitching for Newburgh, allowed 11 hits. After defeating Newburgh, Port Jervis looks like a sure thing for the DUSO crown. If Lord should not stand at the Chasemen can fall back on George Pepper, their last year's ace, to do the pitching. Lord and Pepper are undoubtedly the best pitchers in the loop this year. Should Port Jervis win the baseball crown, she would make the first "grand slam" in the history of the DUSO League, having already won the football and basketball titles. Kingston nearly accomplished this feat a year ago, winning the titles in both football and basketball and then barely missing the baseball honors. Kingston will play Port Jervis this year on June 8 at the Fair Grounds in the last game of the season.

St. Remy A. C. Anxious To Hear From Teams Concerning Contests

Sam Barnett, the watchmaker

from St. Remy, has his baseball team all set for the summer, he announced this morning at his jewelry store on North Front street.

"We had a meeting last night," said Sam, "and everything is set for the St. Remy A. C. The boys would like to hear from teams now con-cerning games, especially from Jim-my DeCicco's North Roadout Socials for Decoration Day."

The genial manager of the St. Remy boys seemed all enthused about his club. "We'll have to look for opposition of pretty good calibre this year, I think," he opined.

Barnett's lineup consists of Harry Gelsler, Ed Bock and Eddie Baker, pitchers, and Herm Kruppel, catcher. The infield: Harry Krum, first base; Mike Carpio, second; S. Did-rik, third, and Matt Lenihan, cap-tain, shortstop.

For positions in the outfield there are L. Keator, N. Atkins, Walt Schussler, Walt Helmich and Kees Best.

The St. Remy club will play twi-ght ball Saturday and Sunday afternoon games.

Twilight and Saturday games may be booked through Walt Schussler, whose phone is 3318-J. Sam Bar-nett has charge of arranging the Sun-day contests. His phone is 1866-R. Umpires at St. Remy will be Bill "Pie" Murphy and Fred Raba.

KENTUCKY DERBY STARTERS AND THE ODDS

Louisville, Ky., May 2 (P).—The probable starters in Saturday's

$49,000 added Kentucky Derby, eliminated to start today with C. V. Whitney's colt today looking like the post time favorite.

Odds on the Whitney entry seem apt to be 3 to 1 or shorter. He is scheduled, like all the other probable starters except Nellie Flag, to carry 124 pounds in the mile and a quarter classic. Nellie Flag, a filly owned by Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, is entitled to go with five pounds less. Jockey R. Workman is scheduled to ride today.

Col. M. R. Bradley is relying on a single colt to bring home the honors in the sixty-first Derby. This is Boxthorn, which demon-strated yesterday that he will have to be reckoned with. Boxthorn flashed over the full Derby distance in 2:04 4/5.

No other Derby candidate has approached this time, so far as been reported by clockers. Most trainers wound up their routine and will be content with light workouts for their charges between now and Saturday.

The list of likely Derby starters, as it appears today:

Protest Meeting For City League

Another protest meeting will be held by City Baseball League managers, Friday evening, to vote on whether Willard Thomas should be allowed to play in the loop.

Thomas, who signed with the Hercules, and was released by them last Tuesday, has joined the Schryver Lumber Company now. Some of the managers claim he is not eligible to play according to a ruling which states a player cannot shift from one team to another until the end of the first half of the schedule.

Whether Thomas will be ruled out of the league remains to be settled by a vote of the managers at the meeting. The session will be held in the city court room, with City Judge Bernard A. Culliton, president of the league, presiding. Starting time is 7:30.

In place of Thomas, the Hercules have signed Frank McGuire, it was announced by Manager George Walker.

BILLIARDS

Championship Series.

The first block of their 250 point match to decide the pocket billiard championship of Kingston will be played at Nick's tonight between Julius Teiler and Stanley Wojcio.

Wojcio seems to be the favorite as the result of his recent match with Teiler which he won 250-163.

The final block is scheduled for Friday.

Dodgers' Spell Broken By Giants, Lose Chance For National Lead

By EDWARD J. NEIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, May 2 (AP)—Casey Stengel and 18,000 Rabid Brooklyn-ers were sad indeed today, for Bill Terry and his New York Giants have escaped finally from the spell of Flatbush.

The spell started working last fall, when the singular Stengel led his men into the Polo Grounds, knocked the Giants off twice hand running and beat them out of the 1934 pen-nant. Tuesday, the first time they've met since, it worked again, auld a turbulent setting such as only Brook-lyn, the last frontier of baseball in the raw, can provide.

Parmalee Dd Trick But Casey's collapsibles failed yester-day as thoroughly as did the original Mighty Casey in the grand old days of Mudville. They had a chance to take the National League lead away from the Giants.

Everyone came out, bringing fire-crackers, horns, bells, and razor sharp vocal chords, but it was no use. Bud Parmalee handcuffed the hitters and the Giants mangled everybody but old Dazzy Vance, the original spirit of Flatbush, 8 to 3.

"Don't be too hard on my boys," pleaded Casey. "They're not accus-tomed to all this attention. They're used to sand lots and rough dia-monds. Balls bounce too good for them out there."

"Even though fireworks are music from home in their ears, they miss the playfulness of even wilder re-gions than this, where it is not un-usual to slide into second base and find that some comedian has slipped a fresh egg into your hip pocket be-forehand."

Casey Rates Giants High Casey even risked the eternal ire of his faithful by predicting that the Giants will win the pennant, with Brooklyn fourth.

"They've got too much pitching," he said, "and we've got too little." His followers put on another beau-tiful demonstration of baseball sup-port in Brooklyn to help prevent the

Hitler Plans to Give Important Statement On Arms and Policies

By A. D. STEFFERUD

(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)
Berlin, May 2.—Reichsfuehrer Hitler was said by official spokesmen today to plan making an important announcement in the near future, probably in a week, regarding armaments and international policy.

These spokesmen professed ignorance as to the definite date for the statement or before whom it would be made, although a propaganda ministry official said it likely would be delivered before an extraordinary session of the Reichstag (Parliament).

Such an occasion, it was indicated, would be comparable in importance to the Reichstag's last session, July 14, 1934, when Hitler told the world of the June "purge" in Nazi ranks. Der Fuehrer was represented as feeling that popular sentiment was ripe, after his May Day speeches, for a blunt exposition of his views regarding the League of Nations, disarmament and other international expressions against Germany.

It was considered significant that an address by Gen. Werner Von Blomberg, minister of war, at a foreign office reception for foreign correspondents May 9 has been cancelled "because Reichsfuehrer Hitler is issuing a statement." It seemed certain that Hitler therefore can be expected to explain new German arms moves.

Other questions believed within the scope of the expected pronouncement include Germany's peace intentions, proposals for colonies, the possibility of Germany returning to the League of Nations or joining pacts, and Germany's attitude toward the Versailles, Locarno, and Rhineland zones.

A foreign office spokesman said the pronouncement "will deal with developments after the March 16 conscription decree."

THE AMERICAN FARMER IN 1935

Red River Valley Wheat Grower Optimistic

This is the first of a series of eight daily articles in which farmers from all sections of the country tell what they think of the past, present and future of American farming.

By JACK MACKAY

Crookston, Minn. (AP)—In the heart of the "bread basket of the nation"—the Red River valley of the north—a Minnesota tiller of the soil, fired with a spirit of optimism over the 1935 wheat crop prospects, proceeds merrily with his spring planting operations.

Michael Wentzel, his 44 years belied by his powerful physique and unlined face, was thankful his 400-acre farm, seven miles west of Crookston, was spared by the drought and dust storms that ravaged the wheat-growing sector of the southwest.

Things Look Better

"It's beginning to look like the good old boom days again," observes the valley farmer. "The outlook for a bumper wheat crop is as bright this year as I ever remember."

"Things look a lot better than in 1932, when I had to sell wheat, in the fall of the year, for as low as 29 cents a bushel. It was then, for the first time in my many years of farming, that I regretted not having gone into some other vocation."

Subsequently, along came the New Deal and the agricultural adjustment act. Wentzel says he became thoroughly "sold" on controlled crop-production.

"It's the only way of keeping down a lot of these fellows who want to go into crop-raising on too large a scale," he explains. "I'm still under the AAA restrictions, you know, but the 10 per cent reduction this year, instead of 15 last, has given me an allowance of an additional 14 acres."

One Of First Signers

Wentzel says he does not intend to make use of the recent ruling which allows him to plant up to 165

Michael Wentzel, a Minnesota wheat farmer, admits that some past years have been bad, but already he is feeling the present as one of his best. He is seen plowing a portion of the 114 acres he has set in wheat.

per cent of his base acreage, subject to the stipulations laid down by Secretary Wallace, but instead will abide by his original contract.

His farm is the original homestead staked out by his father in 1875. At the time of the elder Wentzel's death in 1909 the farm had grown to 1,500 acres. But there were five sons in the family, and six daughters. The sons divided the farm into equal portions, arranging to compensate their sisters. Michael, as the youngest son, was given the original homestead.

Sold Wheat At 29c

The last seven years have been a period of cyclical change for Wentzel. He experienced in 1923 one of the most prosperous years he has known country. One attempt was made to kidnap him out of Germany and return him to the United States, and a diplomatic incident developed over that affair.

Bergdoll has made various attempts to obtain amnesty, which would permit him to return to the United States, even writing President Roosevelt an appeal in March, 1934.

50 Days in Jail.

Elliott Addis, 40, of Kerkonkoon, was brought to the Ulster county jail Wednesday to serve 50 days in default of a $50 fine imposed by Justice Melvin D. Schoonmaker of Ellenville. Addis was arrested Tuesday by Trooper Batters, the charge being that of driving while intoxicated.

Sentenced on Narcotic Charges

Martin Slavin, 39, of Port Jervis, was arrested in that city Wednesday by Trooper Seymour and brought to Ellenville, where he was arraigned before Justice Charles F. Kaiser, Jr., on a charge of violating section 438 of the Public Health Law. He was given six months in the Ulster county jail and was brought to Kingston Wednesday night by Chief of Police Porter of Ellenville. The charge against Slavin involves the obtaining of narcotic drugs, and he was arrested on "information obtained by an inspector from Albany."
